BULGARS' VICTORY LIKELY ENDS WAR

Battle in Thrace Ends With Complete Defeat of Great Turkish Army.

CONSTANTINOPLE HELPLESS

Ottoman Capital Is At the Mercy of Invading Hosts and Turkey Is Preparing to Sue for Peace —Nazim Pasha Shot

London, Oct. 31.—A four-days battle in Thrace has ended in the triumph of the Bulgarian commander-in-chief, General Savoff, whose skillful strategy has probably brought to a close one of the shortest and most remarkable wars on record.

The great Turkish army, estimated at over 200,000 men, has been defeated and it is retreating. Constantinople is believed to be at the mercy of the victorious Bulgarian army and a council, sitting at the Porte, is discussing the advisability of suing for peace.

Such is the news which comes from Constantinople. It is only a fortnight since Turkey declared war. The first week of the campaign closed with the dramatic fall of Kirk-Kilisseh, fully revealing for the first time the disorganization, bad morale and inefficient commissariat of the Turkish army. Today that army is defeated, routed within 50 miles from Constantinople and possibly its retreat within the capital's line of defenses is cut off.

Only the briefest and vaguest accounts of the great battle have yet been received, for the war has been especially remarkable, in that not a single war correspondent has been allowed at the front except in the case of the little Montenegrin campaign against Scutari.

Thus no independent personal narratives of the absorbing events have been possible, and the world has had to depend on biased official accounts provided by the respective governments or confused details supplied by wounded soldiers.

Apparently Nazim Pasha has been completely outmaneuvered by Savoff's skill. The Bulgarian turning movement along the Black Sea coast now appears to have been a feint, which induced the Turkish commander to throw his main army to the eastward, to such effect that the Bulgarian forces on this side had the greatest difficulty in holding the Turks in check. In fact, this point seems a little in doubt. The Bulgarians gave away and thus enabled Nazim Pasha to report to Constantinople some success in this direction.

In the meantime, however, General Savoff hurled his great strength against the Turks' weakened left wing, which he crushed in at Luleburgas. The fighting along the whole front, which evidently has been of the most stubborn and determined character, was carried on day and night, without intermission, and both sides lost heavily.

The capture of Nazim Pasha's headquarters at Tchorlu, to which town the defeated Turks retreated, has not as yet been reported, but is hourly expected at Sofia. In this event, the Turks will be forced within the defensive lines of Tchatalja, the only remaining fortified position protecting Constantinople. It lies 25 miles to the northwest of the capital. Adrianople still holds out, but has lost its importance now that the Turks have met their Sedan at Luleburgas.

It is believed a peace settlement will be arranged either by the Porte suing for peace, or through intervention. An interesting question involving difficult diplomatic problems, will immediately arise as to the division of the spoils of war—a question concerning not only the victorious allies, but also Russia, Austria, Roumania, and possibly other powers.

The campaign of the other Balkan States continues with the success which throughout has attended them. Scutari has not yet been captured, but Ipeka has fallen to the Montenegrins. The Servians have taken Prisrend, and Greece is occupying the islands in the Aegean, in addition to various towns in Macedonia.

The powers, fearing disorders and massacres in Turkey, are hurrying warships to the various ports of the country to protect foreign residents.

A noticeable feature of the war is the insignificant parts played by the Turkish and Greek fleets.

Turkish Ministers Discuss Peace

Constantinople, Nov. 1., 1 A. M.—Serious news has been received from the front. The Council of Ministers is still sitting at the Porte. It is believed that the ministers are discussing the question of concluding peace with the Balkan States.

The exact nature of the latest advices from the battle line in Thrace has not been made known, but last evening the government received the following report from Nazim Pasha, the war minister, and commander of the Turkish forces.

"Our Eastern army has been engaged for the last four days in serious fighting with the Bulgarian forces between Luleburgas and Viza. Our army corps, concentrated at Luleburgas and to the north are offering vigorous re-

A NATION MOURNS LOSS OF SHERMAN

Library of Congress

Funeral of Late Vice-President Will be Held Saturday at 2 P. M.

CEREMONIES WILL BE SIMPLE

President Taft, Senate and Many Dignitaries Will Attend—Business to be Suspended—Political Activity Ceases.

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Arrangements for the funeral of Vice President Jas. S. Sherman were completed today. The services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church and will be attended by President Taft and members of his cabinet, Senators and Representatives, foreign diplomats and Governors.

It was at first announced that the obsequies would be held in Christ Church, of which Mr. Sherman was a member, but as this edifice seats only about 700 persons and it was realized it would be too small to hold the throng that would desire to pay tribute of respect to the dead, the plans were changed when the Rev. Ralph W. Brokaw offered the use of the Presbyterian church, which has a seating capacity of more than 3,000.

The Rev. Louis H. Holden, Mr. Sherman's pastor, will conduct the funeral services, assisted by the Rev. M. W. Stryker, president of Hamilton College and the Rev. Dr. Brokaw, pastor of the Presbyterian church. An hour before the services there will be a private service for members of the family at the Sherman residence.

The body of the Vice President will lie in state from 3 P. M. to 9 P. M. tomorrow in the rotunda of the county building to permit the citizens of Utica to take a last look at their distinguished fellow townsman. With an escort of citizens, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations with which Mr. Sherman was identified, the body will be taken from the Sherman home tomorrow afternoon and conveyed to the county building where it will rest upon a catafalque. The local military companies will furnish a guard of honor while the body is lying in state. At 9 o'clock a cortege will form and the body will be returned to the Sherman home.

The county building has been draped in emblems of mourning and flags, as have many of the business houses of the city. Business practically will be suspended during the funeral services Saturday.

A tender of troops from Fort Ontario at Oswego for the funeral was received today from Washington, but it is believed the family will decline as they are known to be averse to display and wish the ceremonies to be as simple and unpretentious as possible.

Seats in the church were set apart for the Sherman family, President Taft and other dignitaries, who are expected, as well as for the business associates and intimate friends of the late Vice President. Admission to the church will be by ticket, as the auditorium will be hopelessly inadequate to hold the many who wish to attend.

At the close of the services the body will be taken to Forest Hill cemetery, where it will be placed in the beautiful Babcock mausoleum, which was completed but recently and where Mrs. Sherman's mother rests.

Mr. Sherman's body, which will be put in a plain but massive casket tomorrow, is said to show but few traces of the long illness through which the Vice President has passed. Flowers in profusion are in the room where the body lies and there has been an almost uninterrupted procession of messengers to the house during the day, bearing messages of sympathy to the bereaved household from every quarter of the country and from abroad.

Mrs. Sherman is bearing her loss with fortitude. She was kneeling at the bedside of her husband when the final summons came and remained in the room the greater part of last night. Before he died Mr. Sherman

NEW YORK VOTERS HEAR GOV. WILSON

Tremendous Outpouring of Citizens Greet The Democratic Nominee.

ANSWERS TALK OF OPPONENTS

Governor Calls Attention to Betting Odds and Says They Show People Are Not Afraid—Pleads for Support.

New York, Oct. 31.—Governor Woodrow Wilson, speaking tonight before an audience that filled every corner of Madison Square Garden, received the greatest ovation of his campaign for the Presidency. Entering the hall at 9:11 o'clock, after speaking before an enthusiastic audience in the Bronx, the Democratic candidate stood for an hour and three minutes at the railing of the speaker's platform waiting for the demonstration to end. "No man could fail to be moved by a demonstration such as we have witnessed tonight," he said with every evidence of deep feeling, as he finally made himself heard, "yet I am the more thrilled because I realize it is a demonstration for a cause and not for a man."

Starting with the first shouts from the doorway when Governor Wilson arrived by automobile from the Bronx meeting, the Madison Square outbreak defied his utmost efforts to quell it. The Governor's motion for quiet brought only renewed cheers. Chants of "We want Wilson" shook the hall and twice when the cheering had slightly subsided it was started with renewed vigor by young women who forced their way to the front of the speaker's stand and inspired the crowd to fresh efforts.

Governor Wilson spoke extemporaneously, but adhered closely in his Madison Square Garden speech to the one he had made earlier at the Bronx meeting. He had spoken but a few minutes, and was declaring that the Progresscive party, "wherever it could capture the regular Republican organization was regular, and wherever it could not was irregular," when a man in the middle aisle of the hall directly beneath the speaker's stand shouted: "Governor talk about the Baltimore platform."

Cries of "put him out" came from all parts of the hall, and three policemen grabbed the disturber and rushed him to a doorway.

Governor Wilson leaned over the rail and called to the police:

"Don't put anybody out," but the man was ejected. "It is inconvenient to have more than one man speak at a time, but this is a free country," added Governor Wilson, amidst cheers from the crowd.

Mrs. Wilson and her daughters, in a box near the speaker's platform, were apparently greatly moved by the demonstration for the Governor and exchanged smiles with him as he tried to obtain order. Congressman Oscar W. Underwood, who had been Governor Wilson's opponent for the Democratic nomination, and Congressman William Sulzer, candidate for Governor of New York, preceded Governor Wilson at Madison Square Garden. Mr. Underwood had continued but a few minutes when Governor Wilson arrived and he gave way before the demonstration for the Governor.

"Government is an enterprise of mankind not of parties," said Governor Wilson. As election day approaches, I have a greater and greater feeling of satisfaction because I know the American people are about to make one of the most vital choices of their lives. From one ocean to the other, men are becoming aware that in less than a week the common people of America will come into their own.

"I know from the reports coming from all parts of the country that the new party has not come from the Democrats. Therefore, it must be made up of those Republicans who are dissatisfied with the regular organi-

$10,000 —:— $10,000

WILMINGTON CAN — WILMINGTON WILL

Do YOU know that Wilmington is only $990 from the $10,000 goal? The total contributions acknowledged to date, plus the conditional pledges amount to $9,010. The necessary amount can be raised, for surely Wilmington still has:

9	Men who will contribute	$25.00 each
18	Men who will contribute	10.00 each
120	Men who will contribute	2.00 each
345	Men who will contribute	1.00 each
492	Men to contribute ONLY	$990.00

This would complete the $10,000 Fund.

With over 3,000 voters in Wilmington and less than 700 contributors to the Wilson Fund, there is every reason for success; provided, there are enough PUBLIC-SPIRITED MEN in Wilmington who will back up their vote with a contribution. Some of our public-spirited men have already doubled their original subscription, because they realize that when this Fund is raised Wilmington will have the distinction of leading all other cities of its size in the UNITED STATES. The election is near. Will YOU do your part?

The Finance Committee believes that you will.

PLOTTED TO "GET" BURNS AND DREW

John J. McNamara Planned Against Them Since His Imprisonment.

IS TOLD ON WITNESS STAND

Hockin Confessed That Prisoner Expressed Wish to "Get" Detective and Man Who Worked Up Evidence Against Him.

Indianapolis, Oct. 31.—That John J. McNamara, the dynamiter, since his imprisonment in the State penitentiary at San Quentin, Cal., has plotted to "get" William J. Burns, a detective, and also to "get" Walter Drew, who worked up evidence against him, was the substance of testimony at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today.

The story as related on the witness stand was that Herbert S. Hockin went to San Quentin last Spring and that McNamara, while in conversation with him through the bars of a cell said, "I'd like to see them get Burns and Drew."

It was further related that Hockin confessed to the incident and charged he heard labor leaders in San Francisco repeat McNamara's wishes.

As tending to sustain the story, a package was produced in court and identified as having been taken from the check room of the union station at Indianapolis May 8th, last. When opened by the jury the package was found to contain 40 feet of fuse, a parcel of dynamite caps and alarm clock. The package was wrapped in a San Francisco newspaper of April 13, 1912.

Edward J. Brennan, an agent of the Department of Justice, testified the alleged plotting was related to him by Hockin. Brennan said that on May 22nd, last, he was called into the District Attorney's office in Indianapolis and there Hockin had confessed to him in substance as follows:

Hockin had gone to San Quentin and had talked with McNamara. McNamara said: "I'd like to see them get Burns and Drew." Hockin then went to San Francisco and met Olaf A. Tveitmoe, a prominent labor leader. Tveitmoe urged Hockin to remain in San Francisco until Anton Johannsen, another labor leader, could be called from Los Angeles. This Hockin consented to. When he was going to the station to return to Indianapolis, Tveitmoe, Johannsen, a man named Lewis and Theodore Yoell, accompanied him, Johannsen saying on the way, "Mac (meaning McNamara) is anxious for them to get Drew and Burns.' Johannsen then added to Hockin, 'after you return to Indianapolis a strange man will appear on the scene. You will know him when he says I am Arrow, not Darrow. When he says those words to you, you will know he is the right man.'

"Hockin did return to Indianapolis and a short time later he was called on the telephone by a man who said 'I am Arrow, not Darrow.' Later he met the stranger and procured a good description of him. The man brought a package which he left at the Iron Workers' headquarters.

"A few days later Walter Davis, a member of a local Iron Workers' Union in New York city, came in. Hockin gave him the package, saying 'take

OUTLINES

Supplemental reports of campaign contributions and expenditures filed with the clerk of the House of Representatives yesterday show that the Democratic fund to date amounts to $815,052 and the Republican $744,688.

Arrangements were completed yesterday for the funeral services of the late Vice President Sherman and they will be held at Utica Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. President Taft, the Senate, justices of the Supreme Court and other dignitaries will attend.

The four-days' battle in Thrace ended yesterday with the complete defeat of the Turkish army of 200,000 men. The Turks retreated and Constantinople is believed to be at the mercy of the invading forces. The Turkish ministers are about ready to sue for peace and it is thought the victory of the allied forces practically ends the Balkan war.

Gov. Wilson addressed a Democratic rally in the Bronx last night and spoke to thousands of voters at Madison Square Garden, where he was given a great reception. He answered the charges of his opponents in regard to fearing a discontinuance of prosperity by calling their attention to the betting odds in Wall Street.

The Conways, wanted in connection with the murder of Miss Sophia Singer in Chicago, were apprehended yesterday at Lima, Ohio. Both claim they knew nothing of the murder till they read the papers at Rochester, Ind.

John J. McNamara plotted to "get" W. J. Burns and Walter Drew, since he has been in prison, according to evidence offered at the "dynamite trial" yesterday.

CHARMING BRIDE OF YESTERDAY.

Miss Sadie Green Jones, Who Yesterday Became the Wife of Mr. John Russell Pope, at the Handsome Country Estate of Her Father, Mr. Pembroke Jones, Airlie-on-the-Sound.

LEADING SOCIETY FOLK WED NEAR WILMINGTON

Only Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pembroke Jones is Led to Altar by Prominent Young Architect of New York City—Brilliant Reception to Large Number of Friends—Honeymoon Trip South.

Of wide social interest in society circles both in the North and South was the wedding yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock of Miss Sadie Green Jones, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pembroke Jones, of New York, Newport and Wilmington, and Mr. John Russell Pope, of New York City. The event was celebrated at the Lebanon Chapel on the magnificent Jones estate, Airlie-on-the-Sound, and was attended by society folk from Wilmington, Baltimore, New York and other cities. The reception immediately following was one of the most elaborate and briliant affairs ever given in North Carolina.

Interest in local social circles has centered for some weeks in the wedding and Baltimore, New York and Newport society was also agog over the event. Both the bride and groom are widely known in the cities mentioned and are excedingly popular in the most fashionable social circles.

Owing to the size of the little church the ceremony was not witnessed by a large number, the building probably not having capacity for more than 100. The church is a relic of ante-bellum days when the old and wealthy aristocratic planters of the South, living in isolated communities were compelled to have their own house of worship. It is situated most romantically on a bay or sound of the Atlantic. The great live oaks of this Southern land with their drapery of beautiful moss lend dignity and beauty to the surroundings. The interior of the chapel was entirely covered with Southern smilax with clusters of white chrysanthemums. The altar was profusely decorated with Easter lilies, also tall standards of Easter lilies on each pew. The rear pews were occupied by the old family servants, negroes who have always lived on the place, who have been devoted to the lovely bride since her birth.

The bride entered the beautiful little church on the arm of her father, preceded by her two dames of honor, Mrs. James Whigham, of New York, and Mrs. Gordon Wilson, of Baltimore. The bride wore a handsome costume of rich ivory satin with long court train trimmed with quantities of rare old Point de France lace, which hung well over the train. The bridal veil was of tulle and a very simple wreath of orange blossoms worn low on the brow completed the costume. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley. The only jewel worn was a string of pearls, one of her wedding gifts. The dames of honor wore pale pink chiffon with large picture hats of chiffon and brown fur and they carried bouquets of roses.

The groom entered from the vestry room, attended by his best man, Mr. Phoenix Ingraham, of New York, a son of Judge Ingraham, of the Supreme Court. The ushers were Mr. Lyman Delano, of Wilmington, and Mr. Pembroke Jones, Jr., brother of the bride.

The impressive ceremony was performed by Rt. Rev. Robt. Strange, Bishop of the Diocese of East Carolina, who had also officiated at the marriage of the bride's parents.

The music was furnished by the Conrad Orchestra, of New York, consisting of an organ and six stringed instruments. The programme included the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, selections from Mendelssohn, Grieg and other great composers.

Immediately following the ceremony a large reception was held at the residence. Four or five hundred invitations to the reception had been issued locally and the brilliant affair was largely attended. It was spoken of by all as one of the most elaborate and briliant receptions ever held in this part of the State. The bride and groom received under a bower of white roses in a large dining hall and greeted their guests. The house was decorated throughout with palms and chrysanthemums. Refreshments were served by Sherry, the well known New York caterer, in the great enclosed tennis court, which was decorated with garlands of Southern smilax.

There were present a number of visitors from Baltimore, New York and other places. Among those from New York were Mrs. Arthur Burden, Mr. J. W. Harriman, Mr. J. B. Harriman, Mr. Elisha Deyer, Mr. H. F. Eldridge, Lloyd Warren, Mr. David Barnes, Mr. Clinton Gray, Mr. L. Duryea, the latter a brother-in-law of the groom, of New York city; Mr. Henry Walters and Mr. Jenkins, of Baltimore, and others.

A special train arrived yesterday morning from New York city bringing the musicians who composed the orchestra, the caterer and his assistants and the large supply of refreshments used at the reception. No guests came on the special train. Those who came on the special train returned last night to New Yorw city.

The reception that followed the ceremony in Lebanon Chapel—as the chapel at Airlie is known—will long be remembered by the society folk of this city as one of the most brilliant and successful ever attended by them.

Accompanied by several members of the bridal party the bride and groom came to the city late in the afternoon and at 6:30 departed on a special train going South, and it is reported that they expect to spend their honeymoon at a shooting preserve of a friend in the mountains of this State, both being experts with the rifle. They would not tell their friends of their destination. Mr. and Mrs. Pope will return to New York city soon after December 1st.

The bride and groom received many beautiful and costly wedding presents, coming from friends in this city, New York and elsewhere throughout the country.

The bride is a beautiful, attractive and highly accomplished young lady and is a social favorite not only in Wilmington, when the family is spending the season here, but everywhere she is known. She has been very popular in New York and Newport society. She has been unspoiled by social honors and has endeared herself to the hearts of her friends by her sweetness and gentleness of her amiable character.

She is a gifted and accomplished young woman and has decided stage talent. She appeared in a number of amateur productions in Wilmington in the last few years and she displayed such talent in this direction that many of her friends urged her to adopt a stage career. In the several productions in which she appeared she took

WILMINGTON FIRST IN UNITED STATES

"No City in America Has Been More Generous," Says Mr. Daniels

THE WILSON CAMPAIGN FUND

No Backward Step Now—Goal Can and Must be Reached—Have You Subscribed?—Now is Accepted Time.

New York, N. Y., Oct. 31,1912.
Hugh MacRae, Wilmington, North Carolina.

No city in America of its population has contributed so generously to the Wilson campaign fund as Wilmington. Your people have given more per capita than any of the people of any other city. All honor to the Cape Fear capital! Wire me as soon as canvass is completed.

JOSEPHUS DANIELS,
Chairman Publicity Committee, National Democratic Executive Committee.

The above telegram, dated New York,was received last evening by Mr. Hugh MacRae, secretary of the State Finance Committee and one of the leaders in the movement for a $10,000 contribution to the Wilson-Marshall campaign fund from Wilmington, which movement has every reasonable prospect of success and which will be concluded tomorrow night with a general celebration in Wilson headquarters at Front and Princess streets.

Less than a thousand dollars is now needed to complete the Wilmington fund and leaders of the campaign are working day and night and main to reach the coveted goal. Wilmington is rising majestically to this appeal to her public spirit and yesterday a number of voluntary subscriptions and guarantees were received from loyal citizens who will not see the effort go by default. As is seen by the press dispatches, every cent of money that can be raised is needed and needed badly and already loans have been negotiated, upon the confidence of the National Committee in the American people.

There must be no cessation of the effort; already Wilmington has attained a distinction that is worth while. Just a little way now and the coveted goal of $10,000 is certain. Every patriotic Wilmingtonian should want a part and parcel in the great victory that will be achieved in this city Saturday night and in the United States of America when the battle of ballots is closed on next Tuesday evening. A dollar, five dollars or ten dollars, even more, will be appreciated now more than ever before. If you have not been waited upon and asked for a contribution, please consider this an invitation here and now. The Star will be glad to receive any amount, acknowledge it and turn it to the credit of any team or set of teams that you will designate. It is now or never.

Arrangements are going on enthusiastically at Wilson headquarters for the Woodrow Wilson Day exercises Saturday night when W. P. Stacy, Esq., of the Wilmington bar, will deliver the Woodrow Wilson message to the people of Wilmington. The headquarters have been very attractively fitted up and the windows are presenting some entirely new pictures of the candidates and striking statements in connection with the campaign. The public will be welcomed there at any time and especially will everybody be welcomed Saturday night when the result of the $10,000 campaign will be made known.

The boys are at work for the handsome watch to be given as a prize by Saturday evening at 6 o'clock for the largest amount turned in between now and then for the fund. Several lads are at work and while their totals do not show up in the list of acknowledgments, a sensational finish to the race is promised. Adrain Rourk, the pioneer in the boys' work, turned in only $1 yesterday, while H. Gouverneur turned in $4. Still another contestant is said to have secured a goodly list yesterday and will figure in the contest later. It is not too late even now for some bright boy or girl to jump in the race and win the watch by tomorrow night. A $35 watch would be indeed very handsome compensation for a couple of days' energetic work.

The following were the contributions acknowledged yesterday:

Boys' Committee, Adrian Rourk.

Witte Fruit Co.	$ 1.00

W. M. Cumming, Chairman.

Democrat	$ 5.00

C. C. Loughlin, Chairman.

R. H. Pickett Co.	$ 4.00

D. H. Howes, Jr., Chairman.

Donald Parsley	$ 5.00
J. H. Durham	1.00
B. J. Jacobs	1.00
Mrs. S. A. Matthews	1.00
Total	$ 8.00

Boys' Committee, H. Gouverneur.

Mrs. Curry	$ 2.00
Wilson Democrat	2.00
Total	$ 4.00

the leading role and she showed marked ability. Her last appearance in a production here was about two years ago, when a performance was given for the benefit of some local charity. The affair was a great success artistically and financially and the principal role was taken by Miss Jones.

The bride's father, Mr. Pembroke Jones, was born in Wilmington and has spent much of his time here. Wilmington people delight to claim Mr. Jones and his charming family as Wilmingtonians although in recent years they have been spending only a small portion of their time here.

The groom is one of the best known and most celebrated young architects in New York city. He stands at the top of the ladder in his profession. He received his first training in the office of McKim, Mead & White, of New York, and was the successful competitor for both the McKim, Mead & White French and Italian prizes in architecture some years ago. This was before he entered l'Ecole Des Beaux Arts, Paris.

The June number of The Architectural Record, of New York city, one of the leading architectural magazines of the country, was devoted almost exclusively to the "Recent Works of John Russell Pope," an article by Mr. Herbert Croley. A large number of illustrations of Mr. Pope's work were given. A few extracts from the article will be of interest to many Wilmington friends of Mr. Pope and his bride:

"Some years ago The Architectural Record enjoyed the opportunity of publishing a group of houses designed by Mr. John Russell Pope, and rarely in the course of a long series of similar articles has the publication of the work of any one architect or architectural firm been received with evidences of livelier and more general public interest. The current number contains another and more varied selection from the large amount of work designed by Mr. Pope, and this selection will be received not only with even greater interest, but perhaps with a certain amount of surprise. No other American architect of anything like Mr. Pope's ability and distinction has so rarely allowed his work to be illustrated, and many people, consequently who take a discriminating interest in American architecture have never had the opportunity of placing as high an estimate as it deserves upon Mr. Pope's individual achievement. The publication of this new installment of his work will afford them such an opportunity; and unless we are very much mistaken the impression produced by the first batch will be more than confirmed. It will be both enlarged and intensified."

After dwelling at some length upon the different influences that have contributed to mold the work of contemporary American architecture, the article continues:

"Among the influences which have helped to shape the work and career of Mr. John Russell Pope, one of the most important has been that of a certain predecessor. Very early in his training he entered the office of McKim, Mead & White, and he worked with them for a number of years before he received any school training. While in their office, he was associated particularly with Mr. McKim, and it was as a result of Mr. McKim's assistance and advice that he later pursued his studies both in Paris and Italy. The fact of Mr. Pope's association with Mr. McKim constitutes, perhaps, the best point of departure for the critical consideration of his work. He has never been an imitator of Mr. McKim. His point of view was different from that of his master; his training was different; the conditions under which he accomplished his work were wholly different. Nevertheless the influence of Mr. McKim is apparent."

Among the houses designed by Mr. Pope were the handsome residences of Hon. John McLean and Mrs. S. R. Hitt, in Washington. A large number of other handsome buildings designed by him are illustrated in the magazine referred to.

FUNDS NEAR MILLION.

Republican and Democratic Committees File Supplemental Statement.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Campaign contributions to both Republican and Democratic National Committees crawled along toward the $1,000,000 mark in the last week.

Supplemental reports filed today with the clerk of the House show that since the first reports were made the total Republican contributions have increased to $744,688, and the Democratic contributions to $815,052. In addition to that the Democratic National Committee has borrowed $40,000.

During the last six days the Democratic National Committee received contributions amounting to $136,688.72, and borrowed $40,000, according to the supplemental report.

During this period the total expenditure amounted to $265,445.20.

The bulk of expenditures of the Democratic National Committee is shown to have been devoted to State organization. The largest sum was $50,000, given to Arthur A. McLean, of New York. To James Coffey, chairman at Yankton, S. D., $10,000 was sent; D. C. Collins, of New Jersey, also got $10,000.

Charles Guggenheimer, of New York appears on the supplemental report of Treasurer Rolla Wells, of the Democratic National Committee as the largest contributor. He gave $10,000.

Among those who contributed $1,000 were Thomas J. Pence, of Raleigh, N. C.

Contributions amounting to $153,655.92 were received by Republican National headquarters last week, according to a supplemental report filed today with the clerk of the House by George R. Sheldon, treasurer of the Republican National Committee.

The report shows that the contributions were received between October 20th and October 25th.

These latest contributions bring the grand total of Republican war funds up to $744,688.62.

Under the title of the "Taft Club of Yale '78" the President's college class ranks in the report today as the largest individual contributor. It gave $7,175. Andrew Carnegie appears in the report as having added $5,000 to his previous contribution of $35,000.

that out of here and get rid of it.' Davis returned with a check from the union station. Hockin then took the check to District Attorney Miller. Later Fred Sherman, an iron worker who is on trial, came in and asked for the check. Hockin pretended he had lost it. Another time Sherman returned and said: 'Say, that man says you're a liar, and a crook,' meaning Hockin, had not lost the check."

Brennan testified that was all Hockin said he knew about it.

United States Marshal Edward H. Schmidt was called upon to produce the package referred to in Brennan's testimony. Schmidt opened the package, identified the fuse, dynamite caps and alarm clock and the date of the newspaper in which they were wrapped. He said the check for the package had been delivered to him by District Attorney Miller.

Judge Albert B. Anderson at first questioned whether it was not dangerous to have the fuse and caps in court, but afterward allowed them to remain.

Walter Drew, who lives in New York, recently was a witness and testified that Hockin repeatedly had warned him that "the fellows on the Pacific coast are after him."

Drew, as counsel for the National Erectors Association, was on the trail of the dynamiters before the McNamara brothers and Ortie E. McManigal were arrested and Burns was present in Indianapolis when Samuel Gueber, a local detective, personally took John J. McNamara in custody. Burns accompanied McNamara when James Hosick, an agent of California, took the prisoner to Los Angeles.

J. A. G. Badorf, who testified that Hockin confessed to having "tipped off" the identity of the Los Angeles Times dynamiters, was cross-examined this afternoon by Senator J. W. Kern, counsel for the defense.

"When Hockin told you he had gotten in touch with Burns two weeks after the Los Angeles explosion, did he tell you how he did it?" Badorf was asked.

"No, he did not tell me how. I told him he was a fool for allowing Burns to get a reputation as a detective on information he was furnished."

"Did Hockin say he was guilty of dynamiting?"

"He said he thought he might plead guilty and give me to understand he was in for it. He said he thought all they could give him was 18 months or two years."

Badorf was then asked whether Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, was not in the habit of signing blank checks. The defense is that Ryan signed many checks in blank and did not know to what use McNamara put them. Badorf said he did not remember telling Ryan that that was a loose way to do business.

Hockin is secretary of the union and occupies the desk formerly used by McNamara.

WOULDN'T ANSWER QUESTIONS.

Counsel for Harvester Co., Refused to Tell of Conferences.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Declaring that information which came to him in the capacity of an attorney is confidential and privileged under the ruling of the courts, Cyrus Bentley, former counsel for the McCormick Harvester Company, declined to answer questions regarding conferences held in New York prior to the organization of the International Harvester Company, when he was called today as a witness in the government's dissolution suit.

Counsel for the government put a score of questions to the witness regarding the visit made by members of the McCormick family to New York to confer with financiers concerning the combination of Harvester manufacturers, but Mr. Bentley declined to reveal any of the secrets of the conferences.

Attorney Edwin Grosvenor, who questioned the witness for the government, pointed out that his understanding of the rule was that where a third person was present with an attorney and his client, the subject matter could not be considered confidential and privileged.

E. N. Wood, secretary of the International Harvester Company of America, the sales corporation for the alleged corporation, was called to identify numerous price lists sent out to agents between 1903 and 1911 to show that the different lines of machines bearing trade mark names were advertised separately and that standard prices were maintained.

The next hearing of the case will be held at St. Paul, early in November.

Pretty Mothers

Health is the foundation of all good looks. The wise woman realizes this and takes precautions to preserve her health and strength through the period of child bearing. She remains a pretty mother by avoiding as far as possible the suffering and dangers of such occasions. This every woman may do through the use of Mother's Friend, a remedy that has been so long in use, and accomplished so much good, that it is in no sense an experiment, but a preparation which always produces the best results. It is for external application and so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every muscle, nerve and tendon involved during the period before baby comes. It aids nature by expanding the skin and tissues, relieves tenderness and soreness, and perfectly prepares the system for natural and safe motherhood. Mother's Friend has been used and endorsed by thousands of mothers, and its use will prove a comfort and benefit to any woman in need of such a remedy. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers, which contains much valuable information.

zation and its avowed purpose and programme.

"All men have to do is to realize that the common enterprises of life are the enterprises of politics; that a man is not voting an abstract political creed, but is voting a programme of justice and of right when he votes at the polls. Now, if you want that programme what are you going to do next Tuesday?"

"Vote for Wilson," interrupted a voice and there was great applause.

"I appreciate the compliment," continued the speaker, "but I want to say this: 'That unless you people put yourselves into Wilson he won't be worth anything. The one thing that will set reform forward in this country, my friends, is a united government, and a united government does not consist of a President. A united government consists of a House of Representatives, of a President and of something that in my time the people have not yet captured—a Senate.'

"And it consists of something more. If you have a Democratic government at Washington and do not have a Democratic government in the State, you have no conducting medium by which to signal to Washington.

"You have got to have a vital organization of purpose spreading throughout the United States, in order that great bodies of men may be united together for great project of emancipation, and the only possible chance of having a great united organization after the fourth of March next, is to vote the Democratic ticket.

"After next Tuesday we shall know not what men are going to proclaim, not what men are going to profess, but what men are going to do. God be pitiful to the man who promises the American people what he is not ready to perform. The case is made up; the case is before the jury.

"I myself don't doubt the verdict, but I want to say to you that if the verdict shall be that the people of the United States have voted upon their individual convictions as free men, I for my part, am ready to accept the verdict, whether it is for me or against me; for unless you believe in the things that I believe in and propose the things that I propose, it will be of no avail if you elevate me to the isolated and lonely office.

"I propose therefore, that men now forget their individual likes and dislikes, their individual sympathies and antipathies, and join together in a solemn act of a sovereign people and determine what the government of the United States shall be."

Governor Wilson will leave New York at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning for Rochester, where he is to address a night meeting.

Answer in a Nut Shell.

New York, Oct. 31.—It was Wilson night in New York tonight, the Democratic nominee for the Presidency addressing a big rally in the Bronx and a tremendous outpouring of voters in Madison Square Garden. Governor Wilson took occasion to reply to the talk of his opponents that prosperity of the country would be affected by his election. He pointed to the betting odds in Wall street, so largely in favor of Democratic success. This was what he called his "answer in a nut shell," showing, he declared, that there is not the slightest prospect of any check in the country's prosperity. The only way the prosperity of the country could be injured, he said, was by the deliberate efforts of Wall Street.

"The gentlemen in Wall Street don't bet five to one on their own destruction and they don't go to their business smiling and complacent when they expect a deluge next week," was his way of putting it.

When Governor Wilson reached Niblos Hall in the Bronx, where he made his first speech of the evening, a big crowd had gathered. He was given a demonstration lasting 10 minutes.

"What I am fighting for personally," he said, "is that the average man be not kept down and denied opportunity. What I object to in the prosperity of the country is that too small a number of persons originate and manage the prosperity and that the rest of us merely get what is left over and we are satisfied. If the government of the United States is not suited to the fortune and hopes of the average man, then it ought not to be maintained to the benefit of the minority.

"But suppose for example that I should be elected President of the United States—it is a reasonable hypothesis."

A great shout interrupted the Governor and the demonstration of cheers lasted several minutes.

"What I wanted you to do was to wait for the rest of the sentence," continued the nominee, with a laugh.

"Suppose I should be elected on the 5th of November and everybody would say on the 6th of November, 'Well, he has got the job and it is up to him.' Now what do you suppose would happen? Nothing. You've got to stay on the job and back me up, or there is nothing in it. There is no use putting men in office unless you are going to help them do your thinking; unless you are going to help them know your needs. No man can think the thoughts of a Nation. The leader must know and think. What is there in leadership if there is no one to follow?"

The Governor asserted, "The whole disappointment of the campaign," to him had been that "it looked like a fight at the outset and became no fight at all."

The gentlemen who were to have crossed swords with us have declined and have fallen back upon empty bogies," he added. The Governor argued that the Democrats in the session of Congress recently adjourned had proposed a reduction of duties similar to that which President McKinley, in a Republican administration had advocated. He declared that when the Dingley bill was passed "everybody admitted that the duties were too high, that the tariff embodied a provision by which the Secretary of State was authorized to negotiate reciprocal treaties to bring the duties down to 20 per cent. but the Senate prevented their passage.

The Democratic House, he added, had proposed an average reduction equivalent to that advocated by President McKinley and yet its tariff bills had been vetoed.

Governor Wilson was given a big reception in the Bronx. Several times during his speech there were prolonged demonstrations of approval.

The nominee motored to Madison Square Garden, picking up National Chairman William F. McCombs at his hotel. The party reached the Garden at 9:11 o'clock, when a thundering demonstration was begun.

Congressman William Sulzer, Democratic candidate for Governor, who opened the rally at the Garden, received an ovation that lasted several minutes.

"This is a Democratic year," said Mr. Sulzer, "the people are coming into their own. Just as sure as the sun rises tomorrow Woodrow Wilson will be the next President of the United States."

The speaker declared the Democratic party is leading a fight to reduce the "excessive taxation" that had brought about a steady increase in the cost of living.

"The conditions are a menace to civilization," he added, "and they can only be remedied through a Democratic administration."

Congressman Oscar W. Underwood, Democratic leader of the House of Representatives, another speaker, was accorded a vociferous greeting. He had talked but a few minutes, however, when Gov. Wilson arrived at the Garden and Mr. Underwood retired before the storm of applause that greeted the Presidential candidate.

The demonstration for Governor Wilson lasted for one hour and three minutes. It began when he reached the Garden at 9:11 o'clock and it was 10:14 before he could begin his speech.

MRS. LEE FATALLY HURT.

And Five Children Burned by Explosion of Dynamite Cap.

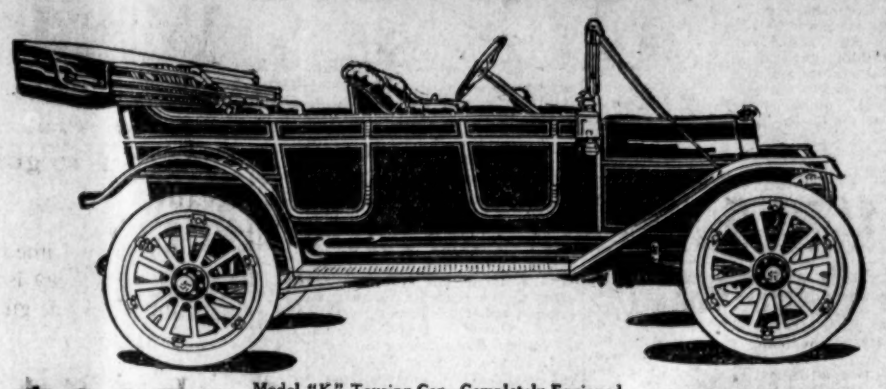

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 31.—Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee was probably fatally injured and her five small children badly burned at their home here late today by the explosion of a dynamite cap. The cap had been brought to the Lee home by one of the children. Mrs. Lee thought it was a pistol cartridge which already had been exploded. With the children gathered about her she inserted a hat pin in the cap and the explosion resulted. Mrs. Lee is the wife of Fitzhugh Lee, a prominent resident of Lakewood Heights, an Atlanta suburb.

Macon, Ga., Oct. 31.—A man believed to be E. B. Page, of Rutland, Vt., dropped dead today in the railroad station in Sofkee, Ga., near Macon. The name was found on a bunch of keys and a postal card in the man's pocket. He is believed to have been on his way to Tampa, Fla. Death was due to a congestive chill.

Bristol, Tenn., Oct. 31.—The plant of the Holstan Extract Company, here, owned by former Mayor C. A. Schieren, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was destroyed by fire today, causing an estimated loss of $100,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Model "K" Touring Car—Completely Equipped.

$900 F. O. B. Detroit

Equipment includes: three oil lamps, two gas lamps, Prest-o-lite tank, mohair top with side curtains and top cover, windshield, horn, demountable rims with spare rim, tire holders, tool kit with jack, and tire repair outfit with pump, nickel and black trimmings.

$900 F. O. B. Detroit

The car that conquers every territory it enters is the car to tie to

K-r-i-t cars have already conquered in many sections. They have never yet failed in profit to the dealer, and satisfaction to the buyer.

Increased production now enables us to bring them to you.

Here, therefore, is the opportunity for dealer and buyer alike—a car of medium price that offers such value and service that it has made a clean sweep.

One of the explanations of K-r-i-t value is—that all the essential parts are made within the K-r-i-t organization; the money is put into the car itself and not in useless equipment.

Dealers who know the K-r-i-t, know that the best part of the K-r-i-t profit lies in its character—which makes it a successful car next year as well as this year because the K-r-i-t reputation rolls up the sales. Moreover they know that K-r-i-t service means that the K-r-i-t Motor Car Company stands back of every car—that a written guarantee for a year goes with each car.

The dealer knows also that when he is offering the K-r-i-t he is offering his client a full $900 worth in power, speed, ease in riding, room, comfort, and reliability—more in fact, for that sum than he could ever offer before.

Therefore, the Dealer who ties up with the K-r-i-t will be scoring, like others before him, the biggest business stroke of his career. He will be tying to a car that will sweep through his territory just as it has triumphed elsewhere.

If you understand the technical side of an automobile, bear in mind that the K-r-i-t motor, clutch and transmission are a unit.

That means conservation of power, getting as near as possible 100-per cent efficiency. And speaking of power, don't forget that while the K-r-i-t is medium in price, it is full powered, staunch and husky, equal to any work.

K-r-i-t models are finished in black and nickel and with 56 or 60-inch tread as desired. Their equipment is complete.

An electric lighting system including five lamps, and 100-hour storage battery is added to each car for $10 extra.

Other Models—"KR" Roadster $900; "KD" Delivery $900; Completely Equipped F. O. B. Detroit.

PRISONERS AT NEWBERN

Taken From Kinston for Trial—Other News Notes of Interest

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Oct. 31.—Seven United States prisoners were taken from the Kinston jail, repository for Federal offenders in this district, to Newbern to stand trial at the session of court now under way there. Six of the prisoners were negroes, and about all of them are charged with violation of the revenue laws. Judge H. G. Connor is presiding. John Biddle, of Fort Barnwell, was made foreman of the jury.

Thirty temporary colored residents of South Kinston were ordered to leave by the police. The negroes, a nomadic aggregation from the logging camps, came into town to spend a few days, as has been their custom, congregated in several huts in the southern end of the city. The request of several to remain another day was refused by the officers.

The Democratic candidates' canvass of the county is about completed, and will end with the meeting in Kinston day after tomorrow. Yesterday they went to Tull's Mill, in Trent township, and today they are in Old Pink Hill, in Pink Hill township. Hon. E. R. Wooten made the principal address in Trent, and nearly all of the candidates spoke at the meeting in Pink Hill. In one precinct every voter in the township was present, and the gatherings at each speaking have been large beyond expectation. Tonight several hundred went from Kinston and neighboring points to Newbern, to attend a Simmons rally held in that city. A special train was put at the disposal of the Senator's followers by the Norfolk Southern, leaving here at 6:30 and returning at 11:30. Saturday will be the biggest day of the campaign in this county, when the county candidates address the people in the Court House, Senator Simmons speaks in the afternoon, and Wilson Day wil be celebrated. Mr. Fred I. Sutton will read Governor Wilson's message to the people. A brass band will be used, and the day will be full of political interest.

On Tuesday evening at 9:30, Miss Alice Sutton and Mr. Roland Fields were united in mariage at the home of the bride's father, Mr. W. F. Sutton, in LaGrange. The marriage was witnessed by only a few friends and relatives of the couple, and was a surprise to the public at large. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. T. Rightsell, of the Christian church. Mr. and Mrs. Fields are among Lenoir county's best known young people.

DIED IN OKLAHOMA

Remains of Mrs. Deans Reached Goldsboro—The County Canvass

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 31.—The remains of Mrs. Phoebe Deans, relict of the late William A. Deans, of Wayne county, were brought here yesterday and will be buried at this place today. Mrs. Deans died Saturday the 26th, at the home of her son, Mr. Henry Deans, at Chandler, Oklahoma, where she had gone on a visit. She was 70 years old and leaves four sons and one daughter, also two brothers, Capt. J. B. Edgerton, of this city, and R. W. Edgerton, of Greenleaf.

The Hon. John M. Faison was in the city for a few hours this morning on his way to Saulston where he is to speak today at noon, he went to Saulston in an automobile as the guest of Mr. G. A. Norwood. Mr. John D. Langston, of the Goldsboro bar, went to Great Swamp this morning to speak jointly with the Democratic nominees for county offices. A very active campaign is being carried on in Wayne by the various county nominees, especially Hooks for the Senate; Stevens and Mintz for the lower House, who are meeting with enthusiastic crowds at every point they speak. At Mt. Olive on Saturday last, a very large crowd heard these gentlemen, and Mr. Fred Mintz is said to have made one of the best Democratic speeches heard in Wayne co unty during this campaign. The candidates go to Freemont Friday and the campaign will wind up with a grand rally at Goldsboro on the night of November 4th.

From all indications Wayne county will give the largest Democratic majority this election in the history of the county.

TURKEYS FOR EMPLOYES.

Mr. Caesar Cone to Do the Needful. The Greensboro Tragedy.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 31.—Following a custom he adopted several years ago Mr. Caesar Cone, head of the great milling corporations at Proximity, Revolution and White Oak villages, will again this year present to each family in his employ—rather head of the family—a big fat turkey gobbler for a Christmas present. This announcement was made today when Mr. Cone directed that his agents scour this county and section for at least 1,500 birds. It is estimated that the turkeys which Mr. Cone's agents will purchase for the mill villages' tables on Christmas day will total $2,000 or more, for instructions have been given that only the best turkeys be bought. Incidentally it is stated that this task of securing turkeys for the mill people might be made easy if Mr. Cone adopted the policy of sending a lump order to some Western produce man for the birds, but following his policy of patronizing home industry Mr. Cone wishes that the birds be purchased in Piedmont North Carolina and farmers during the next few weeks will find ready sale here for turkeys of good quality. Mr. Cone is having, through the Proximity Mercantile Company, advertisements inserted for the turkeys and he expects to have sufficient offerings of "home grown" birds for his use. The turkeys will be distributed to Mr. Cone's employes in Proximity, Revolution and White Oak during Christmas week.

There was little change in the condition of W. F. Blair, accused of killing Division Freight Agent Thompson here Tuesday, as he lay in the county jail. He frets most of the time, but talks to friends. It is now believed that the defense will endeavor to show self-defense when the case is called for trial rather than insanity. A significant remark made by Blair when his wife saw him after the killing is seized upon. This remark was "No, I'm not hurt much; just my lip bruised." It is also practically certain that the State will make a fight to send Blair to the electric chair, charging premeditated murder with malice aforethought; that Blair invited Thompson to his home for the purpose of killing him.

ARGUMENT BEGUN

Grabow Riot Case May Go to Jury Tomorrow

Lake Charles, La., Oct. 31.—Arguments were begun this afternoon in the case of L. M. Emerson and eight fellow members of the Brotherhood of Timber Workers on the charge of murder in connection with the Grabow labor riot July 7th.

Indications now are that the case will go to the jury by noon Saturday. By that time the trial will have lasted four weeks.

The defense closed its case at 2:15 o'clock and the State put on the stand in rebuttal only two witnesses, but Judge Overton adjourned court for the day before the first argument for the State by Congressman Arsene P. Pujo, who had been assisting Assistant State Attorney Moore, had little more than commenced. Congressman Pujo will complete his argument tomorrow. He described the case as one involving not only the question of murder, but that of whether or not anarchy should rule. The defense served a bill of exceptions to the statement.

The defense, contrary to expectation, did not put President Emerson, one of the defendants on the stand. Several more of the indicted union men, who are awaiting trial, testified as most of the defense witnesses had probably done, that the mill men fired the first shot. One witness swore that seven shots came from the mill office before the firing became general.

Marzook Galloway, Sr., and M. M. Galloway, the only witness in rebuttal, testified that they had not participated in the riot from the gallery of Marzook Galloway's house.

QUIET IN JACKSONVILLE.

No Rioting in Connection With Strike. Traffic Tied Up.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 31.—No repetition of the disorders in connection with the local street railroad strike which resulted in the calling out of State troops yesterday occurred today. Additional troops were ordered here today by Governor Gilchrist, despite the fact that the City Council telegraphed the Florida executive requesting that the soldiers be withdrawn.

Service on all lines in the city was completely tied up. No attempt was made by the company to operate cars. The strike breakers, imported for the purpose of operating the cars, were kept in the car barns throughout the day. A strong guard of militiamen also was stationed around the barns.

Members of the Jacksonville Board of Trade and City Council endeavored today to bring about a settlement of the controversy between the traction company and the striking employes. Although several conferences were held it was announced that no agreement had been reached.

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 31.—For the first time in 10 years the University of South Carolina football eleven defeated the Clemson College team in their annual game here today. The final score was 22 to 7.

SYMPTOMS OF CONSUMPTION

Yield to Vinol

The medical profession does not believe that consumption is inherited, but a person may inherit a weakness or tendency to that disease.

A prominent citizen of Evansville, Ind., writes: "I was ill for five months with a pulmonary trouble, and had the best of doctors; I had hemorrhages and was in a very bad way. Through the advice of a friend I tried Vinol, and I feel that it saved my life. It is all you recommend it to be. I believe it is the greatest medicine on earth. I have advised others to try Vinol, and they have had the same results." (Name furnished on request.)

Vinol soothes and heals the inflamed surfaces and allays the cough. Vinol creates an appetite, strengthens the digestive organs and gives the patient strength to throw off incipient pulmonary diseases.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Robt. R. Bellamy, druggist, Wilmington, North Carolina.

WAKE FOREST AND A. & M.

Techs Getting Ready for Final Gridiron Struggles This Season

(Special Star Correspondence.)

West Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 31.—Much to the disappointment of A. & M. students, it has been decided that the annual game with Wake Forest will be played at Wake Forest again this year. It had been generally understood that the game would be played in Raleigh, both on account of the fact that they have been played at Wake Forest for the two past years, and on account of the crowd such a contest would draw in Raleigh, there being a large number of friends of both institutions here. This will make four games which the Red and White will play away from home against only three at home, and it is a disappointment to the students to have such a small number of games played at home. However, a special train will be run to Wake Forest on Saturday, and a large number of students will go over to cheer the team to victory.

Coach Greene has been holding secret practice for the past week, and is thoroughly drilling the men in every phase of the game in preparation for the remainder of the games this season, which will be the Wake Forest game Saturday, the Navy at Annapolis November 10th, and Washington & Lee in Norfolk on Thanksgiving.

LEASES ANOTHER BUILDING.

Warren Candy Co. Will Double Its Floor Space—Improvements.

The Warren Candy Company, on the southwest corner of Front and Market streets, has obtained a 10-year lease on the old Globe saloon building, next west on Market street, and has awarded the contract for remodeling the place. The partition between the company's present place of business and the adjoining building will be removed, thus making one store room out of the two, and practically doubling the floor space. A new tile floor is to be laid and additional quarter-sawed oak fixtures are to be installed. A handsome new fountain has also been ordered. The improvements are being made to take part of the increasing business of the Warren Candy Company, and when completed it will have one of the handsomest confectionery places in the State. The contract for the improvements has been let to Mr. Kelly Jewell, and the work is being done under the supervision of Mr. Henry E. Bonitz, the architect.

Who Had Troubles of Her Own to Contend With, as Told by Mrs. Rutherford.

Charlestown, W. Va.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Calvin Rutherford writes as follows: "At one time I suffered terribly from womanly troubles. Some of the symptoms were hot flashes through the face, pains in my sides and back, headache, dizzy spells, and pain low down.

Since taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, I am well and enjoying good health, and I want to thank you kindly for your advice. It certainly has proven a blessing to me. Cardui has done what other medicines failed to do.

I am a trained nurse, and have just returned from a case where I recommended Cardui to a lady and she is now taking it."

In the face of such strong recommendation from users of Cardui—the ones who know best just what this preparation will do for weak, ailing women—no wonder we do not have to make extravagant claims for it.

All we can add to the above statement is that Cardui is prepared from perfectly harmless vegetable ingredients, which act gently, yet directly, on the womanly organs.

It is a strengthening tonic and helps to build up womanly strength.

It has helped thousands of women in the last 50 years. Why not you?

Your druggist sells it.

THE MORNING STAR

WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC., Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carrier in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business, without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Friday, November 1, 1912.

So far there has been no balk in the Balkan war.

Only five more days for the campaign liar to spring a new sensation.

The floating vote probably has drifted up against the waterwagon in this election.

A fellow who isn't standing on the new platform has no right to blame another for not standing on the old one.

The Match Trust is on a strike against safety matches. There would be no Match Trust but for fifty years of Republicanism.

The only part taken by Taft in this campaign has been to play upon the fear of the people by sounding the bass note of alarm. Pity about Taft—the tariff and tariff grafters!

A girl who wears one of those pretty red dusting caps on the front porch may be letting mother do the dusting on the inside while she is wearing the cap. However, would a Wilmington girl really do such a thing as that?

In California the other day a Democrat married a Republican. Of course the Republican was a lady, which reminds us to say that the only North Carolina Republican who wishes to be ladylike should vote for Woodrow Wilson.

It is announced that a New Yorker has invented an umbrella which will retain the marks of the finger tips of the man who swipes one belonging to the other fellow. The inventor would render a greater service by inventing an umbrella which will yell for help when it is being kidnapped by a gentleman who is likely to put on his gloves before he would think of touching an umbrella.

The highest privilege of a freeman is to vote for self-protection. The highest duty of a patriot is to vote for the good of his country, and the welfare of the masses. The best opportunity a freeman and a patriot ever had to vote for self-protection and against the welfare of special interests can be exercised at the ballot box next Tuesday. The Democratic party stands for the freeman and the patriot.

Senator Dixon, manager for the Bull Moose, believes that 15,000,000 votes will be cast next Tuesday. Here is how he predicts that the vote will be cast: For Roosevelt, 6,117,000; Wilson, 5,648,000; Taft, 2,560,000; Debs, 851,000. That is "on paper." Here is the way the vote will really foot up: Wilson, 6,500,000; Taft, 3,900,000; Roosevelt, 3,813,000; Debs, 950,000. We cannot help it, but this shows that Wilson will be elected.

In one breath Republicans declare the Democrats will not carry out their pledges to reduce the tariff. In another breath they declare that the Democratic programme will ruin the country. Republicans are the partners of the interests which are fattened and bloated by the tariff. Therefore, any note of alarm sounded by the allies of Republicanism and protectionism should have no effect upon their victims—the people.

The Washington correspondent of the Greensboro News mentions that prominent North Carolina Republicans and Progressives had a movement on foot at the National capital for fusion between the old and the new parties in this State. The affairs of those two parties ought to be attended to in North Carolina but the idea that they can be settled in Washington just as well, shows that the leaders and not the people are in charge of the two fragments of the G. O. P.

THE TERRIBLE TURK.

Ten days of war in the Orient serve to show that the Turk is none the less a savage than he was many centuries ago. Though he has lived next to civilization in Europe for hundreds of years, he is still the "bloody Turk." The Balkan war news contains all the necessary evidence to show that the Turk is stil a fanatic, a brute, and a monster. In the 20th century, the Turk is not a soldier but a murderer. He invites the enmity of his civilized neighbors and it requires but little provocation to arouse him to acts of terrible cruelty and deeds of horrible atrocity. The Turk is the world's worst example of devilish ferocity, and in this day of civilization his fierceness and his fiendishness are but repetitions of his montsrous character of Medieval times.

In the war with his allied Balkan enemies he has been beaten back by the splendid prowess and determined onslaught of the coalition armies. The Christian soldiers of Greece, Bulgaria, Servia and Montenegro have the Turk on the run, but as he is crowded back towards his Asiatic domain he wreaks vengeance upon helpless women and children. He slays the innocents in the arms of their mothers and he slaughters women, old men and priests. Such are the stories of the fiendishness and diabolism of the Turk who cries out to his "One God Whose Only Prophet is Mahomet." His lodgement in Europe in the past centuries has been a blot upon civilization, and speed the day that he shall be driven from power in a land which he has drenched in blood since his invasion of Europe as a hated wayfarer. He came with fire and sword, and today he is burning villages in his flight before the conquering heroes of civilization. He pillages, murders and burns—this terrible Turk, whose time has come to be driven back to Asia. As a wayfarer in civilization it is hoped his time is short. All Europe ought to stay his murderous hand and bid him depart in the face of his now relentless and powerful foes.

The press of America teems with dispatches of the atrocities of the Turkish armies as they flee before the guns of the onpressing legions of the allies. The heartrending accounts of Turkish brutality and fiendish vengeance are shocking to civilization. The cables flash the news of his merciless and satanic deeds. The war news now daily records the bloody work of the Turk, and The Star has from time to time published Associated Press dispatches telling of his awful destruction with fire and sword. Mr. D. G. Vafiadi, the Royal Grecian Consul for the Carolinas and Georgia, with headquarters at Wilmington, has furnished us official dispatches sent through the Embassy at Washington by the Grecian Foreign Office at Athens, and they confirm officially the burning of Christian villages, and the slaughtering of their inhabitants from the cradle to the grave. One dispatch a few days ago mentioned that seven Christian villages were burned and their children, women and old men had been massacred. Yesterday Mr. Vafiadi received another dispatch bringing the horrifying intelligence that twenty more towns had been burned to ashes and their children, women and patriarchs sacrificed by the demons who leave carnage in their wake.

Wilmington has a colony of 85 Greeks and they hear the news with horror. Many of them came from the scene of slaughter and they have relatives there. They hear with enthusiasm of the victories of their country but they are full of gloom and fear for their relatives and friends back in their native land. Of the small colony of Greeks here, they have sent seven back to Greece to fight for their country. The heroism of the Greeks of old has been celebrated in story and poem, and the modern Greek is like his illustrious ancestors. They have been fired with patriotism at home and abroad, and of these splendid men who have made their homes in the United States, about 20,000 have hurried to the theatre of war to fight their ancient and relentless enemy. When the Wilmington Greeks recently met to give up their able-bodied men for the war, they raised $1,002 in fifteen minutes, even the small and poorer boys contributing from $5 to $15 of their hard earned savings. We admire their patriotism and valor and we hope the sacrifice they are making in blood and money will mean the doom of the Turk in the fair country which he has made a hell for all peoples of a different religion.

It appears that the allies will vanquish the Turks, for their armies have been victorious over the Sultan's forces in several bloody battles. The allies have about 550,000 men under arms, and the Turks are opposing them with scattered armies estimated at from 250,000 to 1,000,000 men. It is believed, however, that Turkey will never be able to arm and maintain a sufficient army to stand against the heroes who are fighting the battle of Christianity and humanity.

VIPER-TONGUED CAMPAIGNERS

Extremes in politics have been severe during this campaign. Everything was flowing smoothly till the Rough Rider rode into the arena, threw his hat into the ring and galloped off after the scalp of President Taft. He didn't get the scalp of the heavyweight President and didn't "knock him through the ropes," but he has no doubt paved the way for the Democrats to get the big man's goat.

For campaign purposes, the Rough Rider became the Bull Moose and he at once introduced epithets, invective, and ginger into the campaign. We have had introduced into the National campaign a revised vocabulary of the billingsgate of the ancient fishmongers and the smell thereof. He started it all and that is one reason why the Third Termer ought never to be elected. A candidate whose methods are that of the accomplished villifier ought not to have one term much less three or more, as the case may be—and was in the case of Mexico.

However, while the Bull Moose started it and set example, it has inspired extreme and violent thoughts and language in many others. The nutty John Schrank imagined that the foundations of the Republic were about to be jarred, so he used his pistol to stop the advance at Armageddon. That only one crazy gunman was stirred from his lair among 93,000,000 people is a wonder, but it must be admitted that the Bull Moose inaugurated a new style of campaigning in which there has been a disposition to make all opponents out as liars, thieves, pirates, ship scuttlers and scoundrels. Men who are hungry for office have misrepresented, abused, maligned, and hounded their opponents.

As a sample of the 1912 campaigning, it remains for a Democratic candidate in New Jersey to size up a Republican opponent who has followed the Bull Moose style of mudslinging. In the heat of the campaign, politicians have called each other harsh names, but Mr. Robert A. Sibbald, Democratic candidate for surrogate in Bergen county, New Jersey, won't stand for it so far as he is concerned. His opponent is L. D. Hester and he has had a real mudslinger canvassing for him against his Democratic opponent. Mr. Sibbald, the Democrat, in one of his speeches a few days ago, gave vent to this language in speaking of his opponent's campaign:

"Surrogate Hester has selected as his spokesman a half inuchated protoplasm who has not a dollar's worth of interest in Bergen county, whose powers of invective are those of the Billingsgate fish market, and whose capacity for mendacity, mudslinging and muckraking is only equalled by his egotism and galvanized exterior. Subsidiary to this perambulating and orating brass-bound iron pot, are a dozen stiletto men, also judgment proof, whose special function it is to disseminate throughout the county the whispered slanders concocted by the leaders of this honorable campaign."

This is the language of resentment. It is the words of a Democrat goaded into expressing his contempt for a mudslinger. Verily, this is the day of the tongue-lasher, and instead of hearing politics discussed, some candidates have adopted the method of the Bull Moose to "beat 'em to a frazzle." It is difficult to recall all the new styles of invective and slander but we are glad it is most over. Some candidates have called each other everything they can think of, except to denounce each other as a cross between the bell buzzard and a vampire.

Who made this campaign one of misrepresentation and villification? Who made this campaign disgraceful in the eyes of Europe and nauseating to clean Americans? We rather think most people know by this time, so there is no need of calling names. We believe people everywhere are so disgusted that they will teach a lesson at the ballot to viper-tongued politicians who stir up the passions and prejudice of men.

PANICS AND POLITICS.

The people ought to fully understand the reason why President Taft is crying panic over a probable Democratic victory and revision of the tariff in the interest of the masses. He does not believe it and it cannot be his honest judgment. It is because he wants to win, and while he cries for himself it is the cry of the protected interests which have piled up billions of dollars by exploiting the people. Taft himself is having a panic of his own for it is all night with him.

Governor Woodrow Wilson read history to Taft a few days ago when the President blamed the panic of 1893 on a Democratic tariff, passed in 1894, a year after the panic, under Cleveland's administration. In fact, it was not even the remotest cause of that distressing panic, for that tariff was so protective that Cleveland himself denounced it as an infamy and refused to sign it. Again, the President is read this lesson by that able economic journal, the New York Journal of Commerce:

"It is not credible that the statements which are given out in the name of President Taft from day to day in an effort to create a panicky feeling and get up a 'scare' over the result of the coming election, in case the President should not be elected and his party continued in power, should be written by him. They do not read like anything that he is known to have written. That he should stamp them with his approval and let them go out over his name is unworthy of the reputation he has borne for ability, judicial character and sincerity. He has never laid claim to being an authority, or even a close student, on economic and financial questions, and has given abundant evidence that he is nothing of the kind. To accept what is put forth in his name as expressions of his honest belief would be to reflect upon his inteligence and common sense.

"But that for which we can find no excuse for President Taft, whatever leniency might be shown for the tactics of the ordinary machine politician, is the attempt to bolster up these dire predictions of calamity by absolute misrepresentation of the cause of panics and the depression that has followed them in time past. The only case that can be wrenched to serve the purpose is the crisis of 1893, which happened in the first year of President Cleveland's second term, but which was the culmination of forces that had been working toward it for three years as the result of the silver agitation under a Republican administration. The cause of that crisis is fully understood and has been many times set forth by competent authorities on the subject, including the distinguished Republican Senator from Ohio, the Hon. Theodore E. Burton. No such authority attributes it to anything done or apprehended in revising the tariff.

"The passage of the tariff act to which the name of Congressman Wilson is attached came more than a year after the crisis of 1893 and the 'Wilson bill' was so mangled in the Senate, with the help of such protectionist Democrats as Gorman of Maryland, Brice of Ohio, and Smith, of New Jersey, that President Cleveland expressed his disappointment in severe terms, while permitting it to become law as a little better than the McKinley act of 1890 which it displaced. It was little less protective than what it superseded and was more so in nearly all respects than the Payne tariff which the President so ardently defends, now that he is overwhelmed with the prospect that the penalty for its defects is at hand. To attribute the crisis of 1893 and the depression which inevitably followed it to the Wilson-Gorman tariff of 1894 or to apprehension of it when Cleveland was elected in 1892, and to use this as an argument in the closing days of the campaign, is either unintelligent or it is dishonest. Those who indulge in this kind of argument are entitled to their choice. There is no other alternative."

The above comes from the highest economic authority among the financial and commercial publications of the United States. It ought to settle the questions, and make the tariff ignoramuses take a back seat.

Taft has issued another screed against tariff reform in the interest of the people. He continues to stand for taxing the masses to enrich the classes. He stands for the tariff which cuts out foreign competition and brought trusts into existence to crush competition at home. He favors double taxation of the people—incidental taxation for the support of the government and privilege taxation for the support of the beneficiaries of the Republican tariff. There is no difference between him and Roosevelt on that score. They only differ as to the method of perpetuating the exploitation of the people. Who can favor their system by voting for either?

President Taft criticises the Democratic proposition to sanely, surely but gradually reduce the tariff. As he is the same Taft who approved the monstrous Aldrich tariff bill, his endorsement of the people's plan was not to be expected. His opposition, therefore, is exactly what the people would expect from Aldrich and the trusts. Having vetoed Democratic tariff bills, passed for the relief of the people, his opposition to the Democratic tariff programme for the future is for the tariff beneficiaries to applaud. Let the trusts do it. Let the people "ha! ha!"

The four flusher in politics always has something up his sleeve to be played during the closing hours of the game.

CURRENT COMMENT.

A vote for Woodrow Wilson for President and for Locke Craig for Governor is a patriotic vote. It is a vote for the best interests of North Carolina and the Nation.—Raleigh News and Observer.

As long as a tariff duty is imposed it will be operated in the interest of those who are able to maintain lobbies at Washington and to buy the influence of legislators when all other means fail.—Durham Herald.

"The same man who removed from some of our coins 'In God We Trust' is now fighting 'the battle of the Lord'—that is, to hear him tell it."—Wilmington Star. This refers to Col. Roosevelt who is now fighting with the political battle hymn borrowed from the church of "Onward Christian Soldiers" which is very inappropriate in the connection with which it is used and hence our protest.—Winston Republican.

If Mr. Taft were logical he would not stop with saying that the panic of 1893 was due to the Democratic tariff of 1894. He would insist that the panic of 1907 was due to the Republican tariff of 1909. He would demonstrate from personal knowledge that these deplorable conditions were due to impending "tariff reform" which he advocated, because they arose nearly two years before the enactment of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill.—New York World.

With the corn club boys making a clear profit of over $100 per acre, there is no good reason why any Georgia farmer should stay poor. The way for them to get rich is to plant corn. If they do not know how to make money by raising corn the corn club boys can tell them how. What a 12-year-old boy can do a grown man should do better, and when the movement is once well under way Georgia will stop sending elsewhere $250,000,000 every year for food supplies.—Savannah News.

It is idle for Governor Wilson to deny that his election would mean a panic. The panic is already here. It is confined entirely to the Taft headquarters and the Roosevelt headquarters, and will be confined there, but it is the realest sort of panic. As for the rest of the country, it knew the day Woodrow Wilson was nominated that he would be elected, and it knew that the Congress elected with him would revise the tariff. There was nothing in that to disturb honest industry, and so business has improved every month since. The political panic is another matter, and the breadline of Republican and Bull Moose candidates extends for miles and miles.—New York World.

John M. Morin, Pittsburg's Director of Public Safety, who has just been convicted of "mismanagement" (another name for malfeasance) in office, is Philanthropist Flinn's candidate for Congressman-at-large and one of the chief lieutenants of the Pennsylvania forces battling for the Lord at Armageddon. People who honestly believe, and there are unquestionably some who do, that civic righteousness and social and political reform would result from the success of a movement so led, could also be induced to believe that grapes may be gathered of thorns and figs of thistles. The latter would be no less unnatural than the former.—Virginian Pilot.

In a letter on the subject of his long staple cotton which Mr. E. P. Lewis, of Gaston county, writes us it is stated that the original stock used by him was from cotton found in his own field, representing the two common verieties in this section known as the Caldwell and the Adams. He did not use for his seed any of the long staple varieties from farther south. This fact has been brought out in print before, but it is worth stating again for the purpose of emphasizing the necessity for continued care on the grower's part. In the Lewis or any other of the long staples now grown with such signal success all over the Piedmont, he is not planting a cotton indigenous to this section. It is one so adapted as to be perfectly at home here, but one which will not remain perfectly adapted unless it be adapted from year to year. The process of always selecting seed only from the finest and longest stapled bolls must go on. Otherwise the cotton will revert to its original common type, and the grower must start over again with new seed from somebody who has not been so improvident as himself.—Charlotte Observer.

Money Back If It Doesn't

Don't say "I've read all that before"—just go to your dealer right away, lay down 50c. say, "I want a bottle of that PARISIAN SAGE that so many sensible people are using." Then take it home and use it as directed and then if you are not satisfied that it is just as advertised take back the empty bottle and your money will be refunded.

"Pretty risky offer" you'll say; not at all, dealers know just what PARISIAN SAGE will do and have the promise of the American makers, the Giroux Mfg. Co., of Buffalo, N. Y., that they will back him up in his strong guarantee. Pretty fair and square offer, isn't it?

Mrs. J. G. Franklin, Fulton, Mo., writes: "PARISIAN SAGE eradicates dandruff, cleans the scalp, and makes the hair fluffy and beautiful; also is a good hair grower. I shall continue to use it as long as it gives such perfect catisfaction."

As for PARISIAN SAGE Hair Tonic and firmly refuse substitutes. The girl with the auburn hair is on every package and your druggist will tell you that Parisian Sage is a splendid hair dressing free from poisonous lead or other dangerous ingredients. R. R. Bellamy guarantees it.

NEGRO'S LIFE CRUSHED OUT

Jim Campbell, Aged Darkey, Killed While Working Under Gondola. His Companion Has Miraculous Escape.

While Jim Campbell and Joe Johnson, both colored, were under a gondola, which they had just unloaded of coal, engaged in closing the bottom of the car, at the foot of Ann street about 6:40 o'clock last night, an Atlantic Coast Line "dummy" engine quietly bore down upon the car, striking it with considerable force. Campbell was caught under the car and his life almost instantly crushed out, while his companion, by a display of rare presence of mind, managed to escape. He had a better position under the car than Campbell and was able to pull himself up on one of the rods.

Campbell cried out one time after he was struck and then lapsed into unconsciousness, dying in about 10 minutes. His utterance was heard and the train was brought to a standstill. Johnson was found to be all right, having pulled himself up on one of the rods, but he was exceedingly glad to be released from his perilous position. The bottom part of the car struck Campbell in the chest, crushing him and causing almost instant death.

Deputy Sheriff J. H. Davis was among the first to arrive at the scene of the accident. Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, was summoned and after making an investigation he ordered that the conductor of the "dummy", Capt. Chas. L. Albro, be taken into custody and held pending the outcome of the coroner's jury. Capt. Albro was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Davis and taken before Justice Harriss. He gave $500 bond with Mr. H. E. Boney as surety for his appearance today. Dr. Bell will convene his jury at 10 o'clock this morning to inquire into the circumstances of the negro's death.

The fact that the "dummy" makes but little noise is one reason why the negroes working under the car did not hear it approach. They had just unloaded the car at the wood yard of W. B. Thorpe & Co., and were closing up the bottom when it was struck by the engine.

Campbell has been working on the wharf for a number of years and was an honest and industrious negro. He lived in Schutt's alley, between Bladen and Harnett and Eighth and Ninth streets, and had a family.

OUTING OYSTER ROAST.

Members of the Y. M. C. A. Had Outing Last Night at Sound.

An indication of the fact that the Y. M. C. A. spirit is still very much alive in Wilmington, although at present there is no active organization pending the erection of the new building, was the fact that the annual oyster roast of the association at Wrightsville Sound last night was attended by about 50 young men who hold or have held cards in the association. The party left the city at 7 o'clock on a special car and went direct to the Lighthouse, Wrightsville Sound, where the oyster roast was served. General Secretary J. B. Huntington, of the association, was in charge of the affair.

After all had feasted upon the delicious bivalves until the inner man was thoroughly satisfied, Mr. Huntington addressed the boys explaining to them in detail the plans for the handsome new building to be erected on Market street, next east of the Colonial Hotel. He told of the progress that has been made toward getting the work started and explained the cause of the delay that has been occasioned. Bids for erecting the building are to be opened November 12th. The boys showed great interest in the remarks of Mr. Huntington, and all asserted that they would be glad when the building is finished.

The party returned to Wilmington about 10 o'clock, after having spent a very profitable and delightful evening at the Lighthouse.

Obstructing the Sidewalk.

Charged with obstructing the sidewalk by displaying fruits in front of his confectionery store on North Front street, Mr. J. W. Plummer, the well known confectioner, was arrested yesterday afternoon and is to be given a hearing in the Recorder's court this morning. It is said that Mr. Plummer takes the position that he has as much right to use a portion of the sidewalk for the display of his goods as the owners of warehouses on the public docks to use the streets for such purpose. Members of Council seemed to be of the opinion Wednesday, when the question of the warehouse at the foot of Harnett street came up, that it would be well to let the building remain there until after the Legislature meets and then secure the passage of a bill giving authority to lease the docks. Mr. Plummer takes the position, it is said, that if the law permits the city to allow the use of its streets for warehouses then the Council must allow the use of a few inches of the sidewalk for the display of goods if the merchants desire it.

MILLION AND A HALF EXPORTS

Two British Steamers Cleared Last Night With Nearly 30,000 Bales of Cotton for Liverpool and Bremen, Respectively.

"Watch Wilmington Win!" may be applied with equal enthusiasm to the rather enterprising campaign now going on in Wilmington for the success of a Democratic President or to the campaign that is always on in this city for the making of Wilmington into a port of superior commercial importance.

This apropos the fact that two large British tramp steamers cleared from the port last evening with upwards of 30,000 bales of cotton for foreign export, the value of the one day's exportation being upwards of two million dollars, or to be exact, $1,671,000. It is unnecessary to say that these steamers with cargoes are consigned by Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son, the largest individual exporters of cotton in the world.

While neither of the cargoes is unusually large, approximately 18,000 bales being the record for a single ship, the two taken together make quite a splendid showing for the port. The British steamer Snowdonian, Capt. Robinson, cleared for Liverpool with 14,430 bales, valued at $866,000 and the British steamer King Edgar, Capt. Brooks, cleared for Bremen, Germany, with 13,404 bales, valued at $805,000. Both steamers expect to pass down the river at an early hour this morning.

The departure of the two ships this morning leaves still five large tramp steamships now loading cotton at the compresses of Messrs. Sprunt & Son in this city, with two other tramp steamers in port discharging cargoes of fertilizer material, the latter being consigned to Messrs. Heide & Co. Five sailing vessels also line the wharves in Wilmington just at present, either receiving or discharging cargoes, so that it is seen the maritime interests of the port are being well taken care of.

Cotton continues to come into Wilmington quite lively under the impetus of the advancing market, the receipts this year in spite of the reduced acreage and yield being about 16,000 bales in excess of the receipts up to a corresponding date last year.

CALL MONEY ADVANCES.

Goes to 8 1-2 Per Cent. Owing to Heavy Borrowings for Today.

New York, Oct. 31.—Call money advanced to 8 1-2 per cent. in Wall Street today, owing to the heavy borrowings to meet the November 1st corporation and dividend payments which will exceed $125,000,000. Not all of that sum will be disbursed tomorrow, but the largest dividend payments will be made that day.

The quotation is the highest since January, of 1910, when the rate fluctuated from 7 to 14 per cent. Today's flurry was not unexpected, inasmuch as the drain on local institutions throughout the week has been almost continuous. Interior banks have drawn heavily against their reserves here to meet crop moving requirements and clearing house banks have lost over $6,000,000 since last Friday. This is considerably in excess of the reserves, so that a deficit in that item Saturday is by no means unlikely.

All leading financial markets of the world are experiencing monetary tension just now. The Bank of France today advanced its discount to 4 per cent., a rate not approached by that institution since our panic of 1907. Other prominent institutions abroad have advanced discounts recently and this example has been followed by banks in Belgium, Sweden, Russia and the Orient.

Aside from the situation caused by the Balkan war, the huge speculations in Paris and Germany during the current year have made for a general condition of stringency seldom equalled in the past decade.

November disbursements here for interest and dividends are larger than in the corresponding period last year, a fact that adds to the strain on the local banks.

RUSH GANGSTERS' TRIAL

Special Panel of 200 Talesmen Summoned to Appear Nov. 8th

New York, Oct. 31.—The ...e's determination not to delay the trials of the four gangsters indicted with Charles Becker for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, was indicated today when District Attorney Whitman moved before Supreme Court Justice Goff for a special panel of 200 talesmen to be summoned to appear on November 8th. The trial of the first of the gunmen is expected to begin November 13th or 14th. Mr. Whitman and former Magistrate C. G. F. Wahle, who is counsel for the four accused men, have agreed that they shall be tried separately. "Whitey" Lewis will be the first to face prosecution. Mr. Wahle said he would call 16 witnesses in "Whitey's" defense. For the prosecution, William Shapiro, driver of the "murder car," will be one of the leading witnesses.

Thomas Coupe, former clerk of the Elks Club, who fled to England after the murder, will be another important witness for the State. The grand jury which indicted Becker and the gangsters was discharged today. Its final act was to indict another member of the "strong arm squad" under Becker's command at the time Rosenthal was slain. This new indictment is for perjury in connection with a raid by Becker's squad at a gambling house run by Rosenthal. The defendant is still on duty and Commissioner Waldo has been directed to produce him in court tomorrow.

Tearing his shirt from his back, an Ohio man flagged a train and saved it from a wreck, but H. T. Alston, Raleigh, N. C., once prevented a wreck with Electric Bitters. BULLET OF FOREIGN MAKE

Ended Life of Anna Lopizzo, Witness Says—Unexpected Evidence

Salem, Mass., Oct. 31.—That the bullet which ended the life of Anna Lopizzo during the Lawrence textile strike riot was of foreign make and could not have been fired from a revolver of American manufacture; that Joseph Caruso confessed to a detective whom he thought a friend that he stabbed a policeman during the same riot, and that officials of the Industrial Workers of the World "advised violence and disregard of law" in industrial disputes, were features in the closing testimony offered by the commonwealth today in the trial of Ettor, Giovannitti and Caruso, accused of the Lopizzo murder.

The commonwealth did not rest its case. District Attorney Atwill declared he had no more witnesses and court adjourned for the day while the prosecutor was reading to the jury a pamphlet alleged to have been written by Vincent St. John, of Chicago, general secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World. This pamphlet, which was found at the Lawrence strike headquarters, was admitted in evidence by Judge Quinn, despite the objection by the defense.

It outlined the history of the Industrial Workers of the World, the organization's aims and methods. Its presentation to the jury will be completed tomorrow when the commonwealth will close.

In the pamphlet, the commonwealth maintains, is advice to workers to disregard the law. In the preamble to the constitution of the organization read to the jury, it was set forth that "the basic principle makes the Industrial Workers of the World a fighting organization." It was also declared that the only bargain the organization would make with the "employers class" was "complete surrender of organized industry to the workers."

Captain W. H. Proctor, of the Massachusetts District Police, and two experts on cartridges and revolvers, gave testimony that the bullet found in Anna Lopizzo's body was of foreign make, and Captain Proctor said the only type of revolver he was able to discover which fired that kind of a bullet was a No. 9 Italian revolver.

Asked by attorneys for the defense why he had picked out an Italian revolver, Captain Proctor said the only foreign-made revolver he had found in use in this country was of Italian and Belgian manufacture. The Belgian revolver, he said, would not fire a bullet like the one in evidence.

Testimony which was unexpected, apparently by the defense, came when Louis Lacourt, an Italian detective, who said he worked himself into the good graces of Caruso after the Lopizzo killing, declared the defendant had told him he "stuck a knife into a big policeman" during the riot of January 29th. This was the day that policeman Benoit was stabbed and the Lopizzo woman shot.

CONWAYS ARE FOUND

Both Claim They Knew Nothing of Miss Singer's Murder

Lima, Ohio, Oct. 31.—Neither Chas. N. Conway nor his wife knew of the murder of Miss Sophia G. Singer in Chicago Monday night until they read the papers at Rochester, Ind., the next day, according to a statement of Mrs. Conway here tonight. The Conways are under arrest and will be taken to Chicago in connection with the case. Mrs. Conway's statement, which the police say differs from that made by Conway, from whom she was separated on their arrest, is as follows:

"About four weeks ago Sophia Singer wrote me from Baltimore that she was going to Chicago with Worthen to whom she said she was engaged," said Mrs. Conway. "She asked Charlie and me to join them there and said she would pay all our expenses. I went on before Charlie and joined Sophia and Worthen and we rented the suite of rooms on Indiana avenue. Worthen dabbled in wheat and corn in bucket shops. All times he seemed almost insane, while Sophia seemed in love with him, but at times much afraid of him.

"Queer things happened Monday evening. We all had eaten supper. Worthen went out saying he was going to a pool room. Sophia was seized with a strange idea. Grasping an object which she made by unscrewing a door knob and tieing a handkerchief around it, which we called a sling shot, she wanted Charlie to go out with her to get a fellow, who, she said had lots of money. She proposed that we ontrap the fellow and that my husband knock him in the head. We would not listen to the proposition. Then we quarreled.

"Sophia sprang up from the table and went out. She said she wished to write a letter.

Sophia sprang up from the table and went out. She said she wished to write a letter. A few moments later she returned. In one of her hands was a card. It bore the name, if I remember rightly, of 'Claude Stillman, Congress Hotel.' She showed us the card and said:

"'I am going to ditch Worthen and take Stillman. He has lots of money, and Worthen is no good, of late.'

"That night we left, intending to go South, and first learned of the murder at Rochester, Ind. Then we did not want to return to Chicago, because we knew we would be held as witnesses, but as Sophia was well and in good health when we left, e never thought they would accuse us."

The police say that Conway admitted he knew of the murder before leaving Chicago. Conway is little known here, as he has visited the city only occasionally.

KILLED BY STEP-SON.

T. A. Wood Shot by W. G. Oakley—Dispute Over Suit.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 31.—T. A. Wood was shot and instantly killed here this afternoon by his step-son, W. G. Oakley, half nephew of James G. Oakley, president of the State Convict Board. The shooting occurred in the State House building across the corridor from the office of Governor Emmett O'Neil in rooms occupied by the State convict department.

Ill feeling is said to have existed between the two men as the result of a chancery suit over property left by Mrs. Wood. Oakley contended that he did not receive his share and instituted suit to have the testament broken.

Three bullets entered Wood's body. Oakley surrendered to the police and is under arrest.

BASKETBALL GAMES TONIGHT

Teams of the Friday Night League Will Contest for Honors—Repetition of the Fine Games of Last Week Expected

The lovers of basketball are on the qui vive in anticipation of the games to be played tonight at the Boys' Brigade for they are still all excitement over the games of last Friday night and a large number of them promise to be on hand tonight for the sport which is sure to be enjoyed. This interest is not confined to the men, either, as numbers of ladies are just as much interested in the games as are the men and they enjoy the sport just as keenly, root just as lustily and are as much affected by every play, good or bad, as the men.

Those who know the game grow just as interested as do baseball fans. The games tonight promise to be good ones for the schedule has brought some of the best teams together again and this assures some good sport. The seats used for exhibition games last year have been erected so that everybody attending can see every play perfectly and in comfort. The first game will be between the Cardinals and Company B. These teams are now tie for first place and each will put out its strongest aggregation and some great ball will be seen.

The line-up will be: Company B, Register, H., Branch, S., forward; Bornemann, center; Register, E., Sholar, R., guards; Cardinals, Davis, C. W., Irving, E., forwards; Huhn, H., center; Davis, C. C., King, J., U., guards.

The second game will bring the Eagles and Company A together for the first time. Neither of these teams has won a game and they will make strenuous efforts to get out of the cellar tonight. They will line-up as follows: Company A, Fic..., Hanson, L., forward; Gerdes, H., center; Kure, H., Duls, F., guards; Eagles, Fowler, J., Elmer, A., forwards; Burnett, R., center; Burnett, C., Snakenburg, guards.

In the third game some of the best ball of the evening will be seen when the Y. M. C. A. Seniors and Juniors meet for their first game. There is intense rivalry between these teams and they will put everything they have into this game as they are tie for second place and it is a matter of pride for the Seniors to defeat their younger rivals while the ambition of the Juniors is to beat the Seniors, as a matter of glory. They will line-up as follows: Y. M. C. A. Seniors, Straus, T., Woolcott or McKoy, forwards; Filyaw, center; Solomon, H., Starrett, guards; Y. M. C. A. Juniors, Davis, N., Shepard, C., forwards; Farrar, J., center; Davis, K., Johnson, O., guards.

The first game will begin promptly at 8:15. There will be no charge for admission and the public is invited. Referee, Chas. Dushan; scorer, N. Shepard; timekeeper, Kenneth Davis.

TWELVE MONTHS ON ROADS

Sentence Given Negro Youth for Larceny—Other Cases

Julius Murray, the little coal black negro youth arrested Wednesday afternoon in the edge of the swamps near Navassa, after an all-day chase, was the star defendant in yesterday's session of the Recorder's court. He was charged with housebreaking and larceny. The former charge was not substantiated, but he pleaded guilty to the latter and received a sentence of 12 months on the county roads.

Early Wednesday morning Murray entered the home of Quince Sessoms, colored, and stole a suit of clothes belonging to Henry Tan, colored. Murray was a roomer at the Sessoms home, but at the time he stole the clothes there was no one at home and the house was closed. He testified yesterday that he made his entrance through a window, which he found unfastened. He said that he took Tan's new suit of clothes and left his own in the house for Tan. Murray denied that he took a pistol and $7.50 in money, which Tan testified was also missing. The negro said he came here about three weeks ago from Charleston, S. C.

Rosie Black, colored, was taxed $5 and costs for disorderly conduct. John Hooper, colored, was tried on a charge of violating the driving ordinance. Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs upon condition that he is not to appear again on a similar charge within 30 days.

Chas. Wood, colored, was given six months on the county roads for assault with deadly weapon on Wm. Antone, colored. He was found not guilty of carrying a concealed weapon.

A case against Mary Flowers, colored, charged with cutting Mattie Jones, colored, was continued until Saturday, November 9th. It was stated in court yesterday that the condition of the Jones woman, who is at the hospital, is regarded as serious.

Substitute Recorder George Harriss presided.

MEET NEXT AT PETERSBURG.

S. A. L. Surgeons Select Virginia City and Elect Officers.

Tampa, Fla., Oct. 31.—The Seaboard Air Line surgeons, in convention here this afternoon selected Petersburg, Va., as the meeting place of the 1913 convention.

Officers were elected today as follows: President, Dr. John H. Miller, Cross Hills, S. C.; first vice president, Dr. H. A. Parke, Petersburg, Va.; second vice president, Dr. J. O. Benedict, Athens, Ga.; third vice president, Dr J. D. Ingram, McBee, S. C.; secretary-treasurer, Dr. J. W. Palmer, Alley, Ga.

After a banquet tonight at a local hotel the surgeons will prepare for a trip early tomorrow morning down the Tampa bay.

Funeral of Mrs. Murrin

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Murrin, whose death occurred Tuesday morning, was held at 10 o'clock yesterday morning from St. Mary's Pro-Cathedral, conducted by Rev. Father Gallagher. There were present a number of relatives and friends. Interment was in Oakdale cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. M. O'Brien, M. H. Kelly, John J. Furlong, Geo. A. Bishop, L. W. Baggett and Thos. Torpy.

FOR DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENT.

The Commercial Travelers in the Campaign for Wilson.

Reports received from their traveling committee by the Commercial Travelers' and Business Men's Anti-Trust League, headquarters Victoria Hotel, New York, show that the League's campaign for Wilson and Marshall is bringing good results and turning many uncertain votes in favor of the Democratic candidates.

"If one may use such a time-worn phrase as looking out for his bread and butter," said one of the league's travelers back from a trip through the Middle West, "the traveling men, 90 per cent. of whom are against trusts and trust methods, are going to line up with the side of the trust question that will assure them good incomes and positions for the netx four years. And that side," said the traveler, "is the Wilson and Marshall side."

Applying systematic, energetic and business-like methods in their work, the traveling men have organized a Nation-wide campaign against the trusts. Their representatives on the road, who reach every city, town and hamlet in the country, are showing by a series of timely talks on tariff topics, the injury the trusts have done the small manufacturer, the merchants and the working people, in which are included the traveling men, in the United States.

Scores of letters have been received by the league from all sections of the country from traveling men advising of their intention to march in the salesman's division of the big parade on November 2nd next, in New York.

From the viewpoint of political banners, the banner of the Commercial Travelers' and Business Men's Anti-Trust League, flung to the breeze" at Broadway and 27th streets, is one banner in particular that attracts and holds the attention of the passerby. Its epigramatic shots at the trusts are read and appreciated.

Will Play Greensboro.

Yesterday's Greensboro News: "Arrangements have been concluded for a game to be played here Monday, the 4th, between the two teams representing the Wilmington High School and the Grensboro High School. Wilmington is out for the State championship, and since Greensboro has hopes of a similar nature the game is an important one. The local boys will be strengthened considerably on account of the formation of a second team, which will give them some hard scrimmage practice every afternoon. Wilmington reports the strongest team in years."

Hearing at Bayboro, N. C.

Maj. H. W. Stickle, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., for this district, has been authorized by the Chief of Engineers to hold a hearing at the Court House at Bayboro, N. C., at 2 P. M., November 13th, as to the proposed benefits which would result from the government construction of an inland waterway from Pamlico river through Goose Creek to Jones Bay, Pamlico county, and from Northwest Prong Bat river to public wharf at Dam in town of Bayboro. Persons interested are requested to attend the hearing.

PORTO RICO'S NEW WONDER.

From far away Porto Rico come reports of a wonderful new discovery that is believed will vastly benefit the people. Ramon T. Marchan, of Barceloneta, writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is doing splendid work here. It cured me about five times of terrible coughs and colds, also my brother of a severe cold in his chest and more than 20 others, who used it on my advice. We hope this great medicine will yet be sold in every drug store in Porto Rico." For throat and lung troubles it has no equal. A trial will convince you of its merit. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

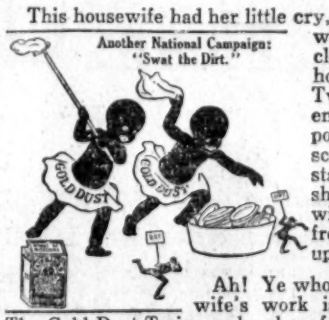

WHEN young Miss Housewife first aspired, to build the home her mate desired, she dreamed of castles in the air, with never toil nor woe nor care. She half imagined, in a way, that keeping house was only "play."

The Art of Dirt Chasing

Too soon the sordid side of life—the dust and grime and soot and strife—each one, in turn, reminded her, that little problems must occur. A part of thrift is in the knack of fighting dirt around you, back; of keeping constantly at work where dust and germs of illness lurk.

This housewife had her little cry, gave up—and scarcely knowing why. Then, from the sombre clouds of doubt, two rays of golden hope crept out. The Gold Dust Twins threw wide the door and entered, eager for a chore. They polished all the silverware, they scrubbed the bathroom and the stair. Each mirror soon was shining bright, the kettles shone with gleaming light, and all around, from pit to dome, they garnished up that little home.

Another National Campaign: "Swat the Dirt."

Ah! Ye who feel that, once begun, a housewife's work is NEVER done, have cheer! The Gold Dust Twins make play of any task that comes their way. A mop—a cloth—a busy brush, and honestly it makes us blush, to think we ever played the drone by working in the house alone.

RECEPTION IN HONOR OF MRS. MARSHALL WILLIAMS

Faison, N. C., Oct. 30.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Weatherby was the scene of a happy gathering last evening, when the Faison-Hicks chapter entertained in honor of their former president, now State president. The doors were thrown open by Master Vernon Weatherby and little Miss Rachel Witherington. The guests were greeted in the hall by Mrs. M. F. Simmons and Miss Augusta Thompson. This beautiful home, with its spacious rooms and lofty corridors, was appropriately decorated in Confederate colors. Receiving in the drawing room with Mrs. Weatherby, were Mrs. Marshall Williams, State president; Mrs. J. M. Bowden, president Faison-Hicks chapter; Mrs. W. L. Hill, president of Warsaw chapter; Mrs. Emmet Robinson, Miss Sally Kirby, Goldsboro, and Mrs. S. A. Wooten, of Mount Olive. Receiving in the library were Mrs. B. B. Witherington, Miss Sallie Hill, and Mrs. Sessoms, of St. Paul; Mrs. Spencer, of Warsaw. Misses Estelle King and Kate Clifton dispensed punch to the guests, numbering over 100, including the veterans of the community.

Refreshments were served in the dining room by Miss Georgie Hicks, Mrs. F. G. Westbrook, Mrs. Curtis Thompson, Mrs. W. L. Hicks. One of the prominent veterans, J. D. Ireland, being detained by sickness, sent this note, which was read by his daughter, Mrs. T. W. Hines:

"To Our Daughters—Greeting: I am, with the other 'vets.' of North Carolina, glad to welcome one of our own daughters as State president, and we of old Company E, 20th No. Car. regiment, particularly feel the tribute paid and appreciate beyond expression the honor shown her, as the president of the N. C. U. D. C's. I am with you in thought and spirit tonight. We believe the Daughters of the State may feel proud to have chosen this daughter as president, the old soldiers are glad to say, she could never have inherited anything but honor and loyalty to a faithful performance of duty from the sire (Capt. L. T. Hicks), we followed so long, and through so many hardships and privations. We love one another and we are proud to have chosen our captain's lovely daughter, who will make for the U. D. C's. a worthy and queenly president.

TAP LINES CASE

Commerce Commission Amends Order Which Allows Lines to Appeal

Washington, Oct. 31.—The Inter-State Commerce Commission late today amended its original order in the Tap Line case, "in such a way as will enable the tap lines to appeal to the Commerce Court for relief. The order declares a majority of the tap lines not common carriers and not entitled to receive from the trunk lines allowances or divisions of through rates. If the order should be held valid it will mean a loss of about $2,000,000 a year to the tap lines.

The order of the commission as amended, is positive. Attorneys for the tap lines argued for many months that such an order be issued so that they might secure a legal hold upon it to carry it through the courts to final adjudication.

By the terms of the order 57 tap lines operated in the South and southwest, particularly in Louisiana, are held to be merely plant facilities of lumber companies and not entitled to the privileges of common carriers, or to receive allowances or divisions of rates from the trunk lines.

Thirty-four tap lines operated in the South and Southwest were declared to be common carriers and the trunk lines are ordered to grant them divisions of through rates according to the tariffs on file with the commission.

It is stipulated, however, that the through rates on yellow pine lumber shall not exceed the current rates in effect from the junction points, and that the divisions or allowances paid shall not exceed those specified in the original order of the commission.

All divisions of rates on traffic other than the products of the mills of the several proprietary lumber companies shall be submitted to the commission for approval.

..Theatrical..

Today at the Grand Theatre Mr. Leonard Chick will sing Chauncey Olcott's great song success in his new production, "The Girl I'll Call My Sweetheart Must Look Like You." This is said to be Olcott's greatest hit on the stage and Mr. Chick will give it a spirited and altogether pleasing rendition for the benefit of enthusiastic Grand patrons.

In the movoys for today there will be two especially strong pictures for the little folks, both Edisons and far above the average of anything yet seen in juvenile films and the titles are an indication of what one may expect. "Kitty at Boarding School," is an idyll oi school days and as might be expected Kitty is pretty and some of the boys from the University steal over and the consequences of a little lark lead even beyond what even Kitty expected. The other picture is "Mother Goose in a 16th Century Theatre." It is the most delightfully refreshing Mother Goose story you have seen in an age and the older folks should bring along the little folks just to see them enjoy the pictures.

The always popular Essany will also be one of the features today and the first presentation of "The Warning Hand" will be found to be a wonderful and startling dramatic subject portrayed with gripping intensity and one of the month's most extraordinary features. All the pictures are with effects and the music at the Grand within itself is a great treat.

"Bunny" at the Bijou.

Whet up your appetites to a keen degree, ye amusement lovers of Wilmington. "Bunny", the favorite of all moving picture comedians, the fat piece of humanity who has made millions yell with glee, will be the star in a big film sensation at the popular Bijou today. "Bunny" will be seen in the biggest and best creation of the Vitagraph Company, and it is going to be a constant howl for laughter. This particular film masterpiece is entitled "Bunny at Sea", and in it fat, jolly "Bunny" runs the ship, makes a big hit and keeps things lively, and does various astounding stunts.

But this is only one of the many film stars at the fascinating Bijou. Pathe's biggest success, "Little Raven's Sweetheart," a Western story of gripping interest and great novelty, is also on the bill. The most thrilling incident of the tale in when "Little Raven" rescues his little white sweetheart from a wigwam in the heart of his tribe. It is a vivid, startling piece of work.

Then, perhaps, what is the most spectacular film ever manufactured is also on today's Bijou list. It is "Out of the Deep". It is a story of the mighty deep of the days of old, when the buccaneer held forth and the black flag was often seen by those on the sea. It shows the desperate work of the pirates, the casting overboard of a big treasure chest and the recovery of the chest by a deep sea diver. An intense, beautiful love story is wrapped up in this film.

Verily, today's Bijou will is going to be some bill. The price of admission, however, will remain the same —5 cents.

LOCAL DOTS.

—The British steamer Glenway, Capt. Richards, having completed discharging cargo of fertilizer materials, cleared light yesterday for Savannah.

—The fifth annual convention of the North Carolina Drainage Association will be held in Raleigh November 26th to 27th, and it is expected that a large number from this section of the State will attend.

—Messrs. Pittman & VanDexter, two young men who are making the trip from Baltimore to Jacksonville, Fla., in a gasoline launch, and put in at Wrightsville Beach about a week ago, proceeded yesterday on their trip South.

—John George Kistowski, the stowaway found on the British steamer Mariner, which arrived here a few days ago, yesterday signed articles and will ship as a seaman on board the British steamer Remembrance, now in port.

—Yesterday's Southport News: "The express business on the W., B. & S. Railroad is increasing at a rate beyond expectations. The freight being hauled all along the road is also increasing in quantity; all of which is, of course, very gratifying."

—Effective today, Mr. J. G. Carroll, who has been with Thomas & Co., grocers, at Fourth and Campbell streets, becomes a member of the firm, the name of which will be changed to Thomas & Co. Mr. Carroll will take active charge of the business. Though turning the mangement over to Mr. Carroll, Mr. Thomas will retain his interest.

ASSAILS TAFT AND TEDDY.

Bryan Declares T. R.'s Toy Can Do Anything But Walk Backwards.

Seward, Neb., Oct. 31.—William J. Bryan, en route through Nebraska in the interest of the State and National Democratic tickets, today in his speeches assailed both Taft and Roosevelt.

"Shame on a man," he said, "who finds fault wiht Taft as a corporation man and then supports Roosevelt, whose managers are the trust magnates that Taft has been prosecuting."

Mr. Bryan declared Roosevelt "gave us a toy man for President and the toy can do anything but walk backwards."

At Germantown Mr. Bryan made a special plea to "rescue the government from Wall Street domination for the sake of the children."

"If Wall Street can bring on a panic unless it is allowed to control the government, why hold any election at all?" he inquired.

KYLE TRAFFIC MANAGER.

Popular Young Official Leaves Seaboard for Norfolk Southern.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 31.—E. D. Kyle, freight traffic manager of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad, will become traffic manager of the Norfolk Southern Railroad tomorrow. He succeeds B. L. Bugg, who resigned to follow former President E. T. Lamb to the Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlanta Railway several months ago. Mr. Kyle will serve under C. H. Hix, who has resigned as vice president and general manager of the Seaboard Air Line to accept the presidency of the Norfolk Southern.

W. A. Whit, division superintendent of the Seaboard, with headquarters in Jacksonville, will also go with Mr. Hix Mr. Whit will succeed William R. Hudson as general superintendent.

Mr. Kyle, when seen last night, confirmed the report that his resignation has been tendered the Seaboard, to become effective today. He said he contemplated no changes in the traffic department of the Norfolk Southern and believes that Mr. Hix will import none

The Norfolk Southern's new traffic manager is one of the best known railroad men in the South. He has been with the Seaboard since 1891 and has served in various capacities in the freight department. He is in close touch with conditions on the Norfolk Southern. At one time he was traveling freight agent for the Seaboard in the Norfolk Southern territory and is well known among the shippers with whom he will come in contact. Mr. Kyle is considered one of the foremost traffic men on the South Atlantic coast. He has worked his way from a subordinate position to the head of the Seaboard's freight department, and in 20 years of service has proven his ability to cope with difficult situations.

Allendale, S. C., Oct. 31.—Ruth Myrick, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Myrick, of Allendale, was run over and fatally injured here today by a Charleston Western Carolina passenger train. Both legs were cut off and the young woman died a few hours after the accident.

No man is Stronger Than his Stomach

The Medical Adviser by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y. answers hosts of delicate questions about which every man or woman, single or married ought to know. Sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay for wrapping and mailing.

LET the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his strength will soon fail. One's stamina—forcefulness and strength of mind or muscle depend upon the blood, and the blood in turn, requires a healthy stomach, for the stomach is the laboratory where the food is digested and such elements are taken up—or assimilated—which make blood. In consequence all the organs of the body, such as heart, lungs, liver and kidneys, as well as the nervous system, feel the bad effect if the stomach is deranged.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

helps the stomach to digest food properly, starts the liver into new activity, removing the poisons from the blood, and the various organs get rich, red blood, instead of being illy nourished. The refreshing influence of this extract of native medicinal plants has been favorably known for over 40 years. Everywhere some neighbor can tell you of the good it has done.

Sold by all medicine dealers in liquid or tablet form, or send 50 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, and a trial box will be mailed you.

There's a reason for it. Every dollar put out at interest is loaned on Real Estate and Real Estate only, and on a basis of from 25% to 60% of the actual value of the property, and every weekly payment lessens the liability of the Association and increases the value of the loan.

Another thing—Every stockholder, whether a borrower or investor, participates in the profits of the Association. As a consequence, the Borrower pays about 3½% for his loan, and the Investor realizes about 8% on his investment.

COTTOLENE

Means Cleanliness & Economy!

You can cut your butter bills in two if you will confine the use of butter to your table, and use Cottolene—which is just as good as butter for shortening, and better for frying—in cooking.

Cottolene costs no more than lard. It will go one-third farther than butter or lard, because it is richer.

Cottolene contains no hog fat, but is a pure, vegetable product—made from choicest cotton oil. It is pure and clean, in source and making, is sold only in air-tight tin pails, which protect it from dirt, dust and store odors.

Cottolene is healthful; Cottolene will produce the best results in cooking; Cottolene is more economical than butter or lard.

Why not give Cottolene a trial, and serve your own best interests?

Try this Recipe:

CREAM MUFFINS

1 pint sifted flour 2 eggs
⅓ cup Cottolene ½ cup milk
2 tablespoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt

Mix the baking powder and salt with the flour. Beat the yolks of the eggs lightly, add milk and stir quickly into the flour, then stir in the softened Cottolene and lastly the egg whites well beaten. Fill a greased muffin pan two-thirds full and bake 15 minutes in a very hot oven.

Made only by

FURTHER ADVANCE IN COTTON WHEAT MARKET WAS STRONGER STOCK MARKET APATHETIC

Prices Made Steady Gains in Early Trading, But Realizing Became Heavy and Reaction Followed—Last Prices Up.

New York, Oct. 31.—There was further advance during today's earlier trading in the cotton market and January contracts sold up to 11.43, or practically 110 points above the low level of two weeks ago.

Realizing became very heavy on this advance, and the market reacted rather sharply in the late trading, with the close easy, although last prices still showed a net gain of from 11 to 15 points for the day. The market opened firm, at an advance during today's earlier trading in the cotton market and January contracts sold up to 11.43, or practically 110 points above the low level of two weeks ago. Realizing became very heavy on this advance, and the market reacted rather sharply in the late trading, with the close easy, although last prices still showed a net gain of from 11 to 15 points for the day. The market opened firm, at an advance of 19 to 20 points on overnight buying orders, and in sympathy with firm cables. There was heavy profit-taking, as well as some selling for a turn, and after showing a net gain of from 25 to 26 points, prices eased off some 8 or 9 points from the best. But the Western belt forecast for lower temperatures, with frost or freezing weather following re ecturians, made a bullish impression on sentiment, and appeared to stimulate the outside buying movement. Offerings were absorbed readily on the setback, and the market later in the morning again became firm and excited. Commission houses seemed to be getting numerous buying orders from outside sources, while some of the local traders who had previously opposed the advance, became buyers. Last prices were about 18 to 20 points off from the best.

Spot closed steady. Middling uplands, 11.70; do. gulf, 11.95; sales, 14.00 bales.

Futures closed easy.

Foreign and Domestic Monetary Conditions Keep Market In State of Apathy—Money Rose and Prices Fell Away

New York, Oct. 31.—Foreign and domestic monetary conditions served to keep today's stock market in a state of apathy and general restraint. The undertone here for the greater part of the season was fairly steady, however, and some substantial advances to yesterday's late rally were established. In the final hour, however, prices fell away as money rose. The precarious condition of the money situation abroad was exemplified in the advance of the French bank rate from 3½ to 4 per cent., the highest figures quoted since the panic here in 1907. The weekly statement of the Bank of France disclosed an increase of $68,000,000 in discounts due, no doubt, to the exigencies of the settlement now just concluded in Paris.

The showing of the Bank of England was not of the most encouraging character, its liability reserves falling almost two per cent. from last week.

Opening advances in stocks here ran to a point or better in some issues, with Reading, Union Pacific, the Texas Hill stocks and United States Steel most active. Canadian Pacific and its allied property were materially higher, while Amalgamated Copper and American Smelting were in better request than recently.

When call loans rose to 8½ per cent. in the final hour the market became dull to the verge of stagnation, and most gains were reduced to fractions.

Bonds were steady, with the demand limited. Total sales, par value, were $1,629,000. United States 2s advanced ¼ per cent. on call. Total sales today, 365,300 shares.

BOUND OVER TO JURY.

Alleged White Slavers Released on $1,000 and $800 Bonds.

Macon, Ga., Oct. 31.—Walter Pounds and Clarence A. Rhodes, arrested yesterday charged with the violation of the white slave law, were bound over to the Federal grand jury today under bonds of $1,000 and $800, respectively. They were arraigned before United States Commissioner L. M. Erwin.

The charges against Walter E. Rhodes, arrested on the same charge yesterday, were dismissed.

It is alleged that Clarence Rhodes and Pounds enticed three white girls from Bath, S. C., and took them to Burke county, Georgia.

McAlester, Okla., Oct. 31.—Joe Davis and "Buck" Burdolof were arrested at the village of Blocker today, charged with implication in the robbery of a Missouri, Kansas & Texas passenger train which was held up near Wirth, Okla., Tuesday morning. They were brought to McAlester tonight and lodged in the Federal prison.

sistance to the enemy advancing in this direction.

"The citadel at Adrianople is still holding out. Our forces in the neighborhood of Viza are making successful advance."

Still earlier official advices stated that the Bulgarian force of 30,000 men has concentrated in the Istranda mountains, where "the retreat of the Bulgarians had been cut off."

Pursuing the Turks

Sofia, Oct. 31.—The Bulgarian army is vigorously pursuing the Turks who are retreating in disorder and panic on Serai and Tchorlu. Many guns and large quantities of ammunition have been captured. Aivali, near Luleburgas and Maras have been burned. All the Christian inhabitants, according to the Bulgarians, were massacred.

Terrible Turkish Atrocities

London, Oct. 31.—The Servian legation has received a dispatch from Belgrade giving accounts by returned Servian officers of atrocities committed by the Turkish troops before abandoning the country conquered by the Servians.

"Wherever the Turks passed," says the dispatch, "the Servian army found only land strewn with bodies of men, women and children, mutilated in the most barbarous fashion. Bodies of men were also found bound to trees. They had been burned alive by means of fires kindled under their feet. One body bore indications of having been roasted on a gridiron."

Montenegrins Enter Ipek

Rieka, Oct. 31.—General Vukotitch, at the head of the victorious Montenegrin troops, entered Ipek Wednesday afternoon. The Servian inhabitants, bearing flags, acclaimed the victors.

Ipeka, which also is known as Petch, is in the vilayet of Kossovo, about 15 miles from the Montenegrin frontier. In the Middle Ages it was the seat of the Servian patriarchs and after the Montenegrins occupied the town a thanksgiving service was held in the old patriarchal cathedral.

Greeks Occupy Islands.

Athens, Oct. 31.—Admiral Countouriotis, in command of the Greek squadron in the Aegan, announces that the islands of Thasos and Sobros have been occupied and the Greek flag raised.

Thasos is a dependency of Turkey. It has an area of 150 square miles and a population of about 12,000 mainly Greeks.

Turks Completely Routed.

Sofia, Oct. 31.—The Bulgarian army has completely routed the main Turkish army under Nazim Pasha. The Turks fled in disorder, leaving many killed and wounded on the field.

The battle, regarded as the most important engagement since the war's beginning, continued three entire days. The fighting line reached from Luleburgas eastward to Serai. The Ottoman troops retreated to Tchorlu, 21 miles south of the positions from which they were driven.

The town of Tchorlu, where the Turks are expected to make another stand, occupies an important position on the main road and on the railway between Constantinople and Adrianople at the point where the road from the port of Rodosto joins. Unless the Turks hold this place they will be unable to bring any more troops from Asia Minor by way of Rodosto.

Negotiations Are Begun.

London, Oct. 31.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Chronicle sends the following:

"The Servian Foreign Minister and the Greek Premier, who brought about the Balkan alliance, started for Paris today, it is supposed to negotiate with Premier Poincaire.

It is understood that the Bulgarian army in following up its successes, will advance on Constantinople. The Balkan allies will not accept an armistice, but are willing to negotiate peace direct with Turkey."

Nazim Pasha Shot.

London, Nov. 1.—Nazim Pasha, the Turkish Minister of War and commander-in-chief in Thrace, has been either shot or taken prisoner, according to a dispatch from Sofia to the Post.

Bulgaria May Become Power.

Sofia, Oct. 31.—News of the defeat of the Turkish army was received here late tonight with a feeling of great relief, but no noisy demonstration. Confidence in the success of the Bulgarian arms had been mixed with great anxiety because of the lack of news for the last two days.

The people are now looking forward to Bulgaria becoming a great power in the Balkans, as Turkey formerly was.

It is understood that the fighting has been of the fiercest character, night even affording no intermission.

The Turks suffered severely. Many were captured and great numbers of dead were left on the field.

News of the capture of Nazim Pasha's headquarters is eagerly awaited. Little has been heard from the Bulgarian left wing which stretches from Bunar Hissar to Midia. In this territory the Turks greatly outnumbered the Bulgarians, who have only been able to hold their own. Any slight success which the Turks obtained here, however, was of no material importance.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 31.—One thousand members of the International Workers Union, including waiters, cooks, and chambermaids, struck here tonight. They demand a slight increase in wages, the abolition of fines, shorter hours and better food and more sanitary conditions at their tables and in sleeping apartments. Five of the leading hotels are affected.

entrusted to his wife a list of those he wished to act as honorary pall-bearers at his funeral. Who they are has not yet been announced. The active pall-bearers will be selected from the employes of the Utica Trust & Deposit Company, of which Mr. Sherman was president.

The honorary pall-bearers were announced tonight as follows: U. S. Senator Elihu Root, Thomas R. Proctor, Charles S. Symonds, William S. Doolittle, J. Francis Day, George E. Dunham, Charles B. Rogers, William T. Baker, Henry H. Cooper and Dr. Fayette H. Peck.

All are Uticans except Senator Root, whose home is in the neighboring village of Clinton.

Political activity here ceased with the death of the Vice President.

Meetings which had been scheduled have been abandoned by all parties who have joined in mourning the loss of Utica's most distinguished citizen.

Taft Issues Proclamation

Washington, Oct. 31.—President Taft will leave Washington late tomorrow for Utica to attend the funeral of Vice President Sherman there Saturday afternoon. The President will go on a private car and will be accompanied by some of his aides and secretaries. What cabinet officers will go had not been determined when the President began making his arrangements.

Mr. Taft had an engagement to dedicate a monument at Newark, N. J., on Saturday, but this has been cancelled. He probably will not return to Washington until after election, but will go direct from Utica to New York, stop over Monday and leave for Cincinnati in time to vote there Tuesday morning.

Flags upon the White House, the dome of the capitol and government buildings were at half mast today. The State Department prepared a proclamation which the President approved, prescribing 30 days mourning for embassies and legations of the United States abroad.

President Taft signed the formal proclamation announcing the Vice servances and paying tribute to Mr. Sherman's life work.

Colonel Daniel N. Ransdell, sergeant-at-arms of the Senate, transmitted to Senators the official notification of the death of their presiding officer.

The text of the proclamation is as follows:

"To the People of the United States:

"James Schoolcraft Sherman, Vice President of the United States, died at his home in Utica, N. Y., at 9:42 o'clock on the evening of October 30th, 1912. In his death the nation has lost one of its most illustrious citizens and one of its most efficient and faithful servants.

"Elected at an early age to the mayorship of his native city, the continued confidence of his community was shown by his election for 10 terms as a representative in the National Congress. As a legislator he at once took and retained high rank and displayed such attributes of upright and wide statesmanship as to commend him to the people of the United States for the second highest office within their gift. As presiding officer of the Senate he won the respect and esteem of all for his fairness and impartiality.

"His private life was noble and good. His genial disposition and attractiveness of character endeared him to all whose privilege it was to know him. His devotion to the best interest of his native land will endear his memory to his fellow countrymen.

"In respect to his memory and the eminent and various services of this high official and patriotic public servant, I direct that on the day of the funeral the executive offices of the United States shall be closed and all posts and stations of the army, and navy shall display the National flag at half mast and that the representatives of the United States in foreign countries shall pay appropriate tribute to the illustrious dead for a period of 30 days.

"In witness whereof I have hereun to set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington this thirty first day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and twelve, and of the independence of the United States, the one hundred and thirty-seventh.

(Signed) WILLIAM H. TAFT."
(Seal)

By the President.
ALVA ADEE,
Acting Secretary of State.

Senate Will Attend In a Body

New York, Oct. 31.—Senator Bacon, president pro tem. of the Senate, announced tonight that the Senators who will attend Vice President Sherman's funeral would leave here in a body at 8:30 Saturday morning, over the New York Central for Utica. Earlier in the day Senator Bacon directed Colonel Ransdell, sergeant-at-arms of the Senate, to notify each Senator that the entire Senate has been appointed a committee of the whole to attend the funeral.

Senator Bacon added that no place of meeting in New York had been selected for the Senators prior to their departure for Utica, but he thought they would meet at the Grand Central station. A number of representatives, he said, would accompany them.

"I have also invited the Chief Justice and other justices of the United States Supreme Court on behalf of the Senate, to attend the funeral with us," said Senator Bacon. "It's probable that several of the justices will accept the invitation."

Inasmuch as the Supreme Court has been invited on behalf of the Senate to attend the funeral, all of the court's expenses incidental to the trip will be borne by the Senate.

KIMMEL CLAIMANT FAILS.

Can't Prove Identity and Mrs. Bonslett Wins Suit.

St. Louis, Oct. 31. — The Kimmel claimant failed to prove his identity at a second trial to the satisfaction of the jury, for it tonight returned a verdict in favor of Mrs. Edna Bonslett, who was suing in the State District Court to collect two $10,000 insurance policies on the life of her brother, George A. Kimmel, who disappeared in Kansas City in 1898. Mrs. Bonslett was allowed $20,460, including interest.

COLUMBUS BAPTISTS.

Association in Session at Clarkton—Prominent Visitors Attend.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Clarkton, N. C., Oct. 31.—The Cape Fear Columbus Baptist Association, comprising the whole of Columbus county and a portion of Bladen, is in session here this week. There is in this association 38 churches. The following ministers are in attendance: A. H. Porter, F. T. Wooten, J. H. Poteat, W. G. Moore, C. Stanley, W. G. Stanley, R. S. Lennon, W. G. Coleman, M. A. Stephens, W. D. Pridgen, J. J. Adams, W. L. Brisson, J. T. Tyner. Visiting ministers are J. M. Page, Rose Hill; W. B. Rivenbark, Teachey; A. J. Freeman, of the Bladen association; E. L. Middleton, State Sunday School secretary, and Archibald Johnson, of "Charity and Children", are also present. Rev. A. H. Porter, who is pastor of the church here, is moderator; J. J. Hendren, clerk, and L. L. Hinson, treasurer. The opening sermon was preached Tuesday morning by Rev. J. M. Page. Rev. J. H. Poteat preached a very able sermon on Tuesday night. On Wednesday night a large and attentive congregation enjoyed the sermon by Rev. W. B. Rivenbark at the Presbyterian church.

Dinner was served on the grounds in picnic fashion each day. Thus the social feature as well as the services was very much enjoyed by all in attendance.

WILSON WILL CARRY 40 STATES.

Taft, Teddy, Debs and Chafin Divide Others, Latter Says.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 31.—"Wilson will carry 40 States; Roosevelt five; Taft three, and Debs and I will divide the others."

This prediction was made by Eugene Chafin, candidate of the Prohibition party for President in a spech here today. Other declarations made by him include:

"Liquor is the real cause of the high cost of living.

"Local option and local prohibition is not worth a hoot. Stop it by constitutional amendment and it will remain stopped.

"Abolish liquor as we abolished slavery—by constitutional amendment.

"Give us a million votes this time and we will elect a President next time."

Only a Fire Hero.

Bear a distinct family resemblance in size, if not in relation of quality. Consequently if the gold piece is kept in close association with pennies it is likely to share the fate of being taken for one, or rather GIVEN for one, as happened not long ago with a friend of ours.

The lady paid the milkman, as she thought, fifteen cents, but in reality handed him fourteen pennies and the little gold piece, not discovering her error until the following day.
